Przemysl Surrenders, Thousands Taken Prisoners

PROTEST OF U. S. TO BRITAIN'S BLOCKADE NOW BEING FRAMED

Representations Expected to Dwell Chiefly on Alleged Right to Hold Up Ships on Suspicion

GERMANY TO BE ASKED TO PAY FOR SHIP SUNK

Both Notes Are Expected to Be on Their Way to London and Berlin in Two or Three Days

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 22.—It was stated definitely at the White House today that a note to Great Britain making representation on some features of the order in council, is being framed and will be dispatched to London in a few days. The basis of the representations was not disclosed.

Representations to Germany for the loss of the American sailing ship William P. Frye and her cargo, sunk in the south Atlantic by the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, also are being prepared and will be dispatched to Berlin in two or three days.

The representations to Great Britain are expected to dwell chiefly on Great Britain's notice that she reserves the right to hold up all goods suspected of having an enemy origin or destination even though consigned to neutral ports.

Dacia Case Is Further Complicated by Orders

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 22.—France has conditioned her offer to put the cotton cargo of the steamer Dacia before a prize court at Brest, on the establishment of the American citizenship of its owners. The American embassy at Paris today so informed the state department. As that question is now at issue, the case is further complicated.

French Claim Repulse of Several German Attacks

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, March 22.—(Via London.)—The official statement given out today by the war department says:

"To the north of Arras, at Notre Dame de Lorette, a German counter attack on Saturday evening, deprived us of some sections of trenches. We recaptured them yesterday.

"At La Boisselle, northeast of Albert, mine warfare continues. After having blown up one of the enemies' galleries we occupied the greater part of the pit formed.

"During Sunday, Rheims received about fifty shells.

"In the Argonne we inflicted two serious reverses on the enemy. Near Bagatelle we blew up three mines and two companies of our troops stormed a German trench in which they installed their positions despite strong counter attacks. Five hundred yards from there, the enemy, after exploding two mines and bombarding our trenches, rushed to attack on a front of about 250 yards. After some very hot hand to hand fighting our assailants were hurled back, despite the arrival of their reinforcements. Our artillery caught them under its fire as they were falling back and inflicted very heavy losses on them."

BRYAN'S PEACE TREATY WITH RUSSIA RATIFIED

Makes Fifteenth of Such Treaties That Are in Force

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Ratifications of the peace commission treaty between the United States and Russia were exchanged today by Secretary Bryan and George Bakmeteff, the Russian ambassador. Fifteen such treaties now are in force.

Cotton Makes New Record as January Futures Pass 10cts.

Better Prospects for End of War and Increased Foreign Demand Chief Factors in Advance

Better prospects for an early end of the war, coupled with an increased foreign demand and other conditions, put cotton up to a new high record for the season Monday when January futures crossed the 10-cent mark.

Futures were 8 to 12 points up, and spot cotton in Atlanta was 8 5-8 cents, middling basis, an advance of 1-3 of a cent since Saturday.

The chief factor in the advance is the heavy foreign demand. There is also a rush to complete March shipping contracts before the blockade goes into effect.

Despite an unprecedented condition of war and blockades, exports of cotton for the season are now only 1,296,000 behind the corresponding period last season. The total of 6,148,000 compares with 7,544,000 for the same period last season and with 8,800,000 for the entire 1913-14 season.

At the beginning of the war it was thought improbable that cotton exports would exceed 4,000,000 bales, but now they are ahead of last season, taking the shipments from day to day.

Speaker Clark and Family Flee From Hotel as it Burns

(By Associated Press.)

PASS CHRISTIAN, Miss., March 22.—Lynne Castle, one of the best known hotels on the gulf coast, and including among its guests Speaker Champ Clark, Mrs. Clark and their daughter, Genevieve, was seriously damaged by fire today. Cold weather had kept practically all the guests indoors, so they had plenty of warning when the blaze started and saved their effects. The loss is estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000.

GEORGIA LOSES RAILROAD TAX CASE IN HIGH COURT

Roads Need Not Pay Ad Valorem Tax on Leased Property Exempt From Taxation

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The supreme court decided today that the state of Georgia could not require leasing railroads to pay an ad varioren tax on property leased from other railroads and exempt from taxation.

The state sought to require the Central of Georgia to pay an ad valorem tax on the property of the Augusta and Savannah portions of the Southwestern which were exempted from taxation in the original charters of these two roads.

Justices Pitney, Hughes and McReynolds dissented from the opinion.

A similar decision was announced in another case affecting a tax imposed on the Louisville and Nashville and Atlantic Coast Line on the leased property of the Georgia Railroad and Banking company.

The tax the state sought to collect aggregates a million dollars annually.

U. S. COURT RECESSES; FRANK CASE NOT DECIDED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WASHINGTON, March 22.—After handing down several opinions Monday morning the United States supreme court recessed at noon until Monday, April 5, without having rendered a decision on the habeas corpus appeal of Leo M. Frank, of Atlanta.

It had been generally expected the Frank decision would be announced Monday. It will not be forthcoming now for at least two weeks and possibly longer.

SNOWSTORM BLOCKS SIX FAST TRAINS IN WEST

MITCHELL, S. D., March 22.—Six trains are fast in cuts on the Milwaukee system between Mitchell and Rapid City as the result of a snowstorm which has been sweeping the western half of South Dakota since late Friday afternoon. The storm was especially severe west of the Missouri river, as the snow is drifting heavily.

SON OF J. M. OLIVER DISAPPEARS FROM HOME

J. M. Oliver, who conducts a store at the Gate City Cotton Mills at East Point, told The Journal Saturday night that his son, Fred, fourteen years old, had disappeared from home.

The boy left early Friday afternoon. He had $10 or $12 with him, and his father thinks some one persuaded him to leave home.

$3,000 IS SUBSCRIBED MONDAY MORNING TO FUND FOR GREAT FAIR

Several Committees Not at Work Because of Other Business, but Will Be on the Job Tuesday

$36,600 OF NEEDED $75,000 IS RAISED

Workers Enthusiastic at Noon Meeting and Confidently Predict Goal Will Be Reached by End of Week

Three thousand dollars for the Southeastern fair raised Monday morning!

Such was the result of half a day's work reported Monday at the noon meeting of the campaign committees in the chamber of commerce.

And all of the committees were not at work, because a number were prevented by business and other demands from getting together Monday morning. Their chairmen were present at the meeting, however, and stated they will be in the thick of the canvass not later than Tuesday.

Of the $3,000 reported Monday $1,300 was subscribed by dealers in beverages and was secured by the committee in charge of this detail of the canvass, headed by J. R. Seawright. The subscribers in this group are M. Dietch, A. Samuels, Lorenzo Jones, R. C. Bosche, Peter Poulas, Theatrical club, Metropolitan club, Poole & McCullough and Sig Samuels, the amounts of their subscriptions appearing in the accompanying tabulated list of subscriptions.

The largest single subscription reported Monday was $500 from Parks-Chambers-Hardwick company, the well known clothing firm. The subscription was secured by the committee of which Lloyd R. Parks, the president of the company, is chairman.

The meeting of the committees abounded in enthusiasm and confidence and it was generally predicted that before the end of the campaign, $75,000, will be reached by the end of the week at the outside.

BANKERS ACCORDIAL.

Leading bankers from five different cities have wired the Atlanta chamber of commerce endorsing plans for the Southeastern Fair association will hold at Lakewood, as big business propositions, and testifying to the business value of the fairs of their states.

The telegrams, all signed by officials of big banks, come from Toronto, Canada; Dallas, Tex.; Springfield, Ill.; Des Moines, Iowa, and Richmond, Va.

All of the cities named have annual fairs similar to the one which Atlanta proposes to hold at Lakewood, and in each it is the fair in which the bankers and business men as a tremendous business asset as well as an advertising feature of their businesses.

Several of the bank presidents in their telegrams to the chamber of commerce go into detail and tell of specific good the fairs have done their communities.

YOUTH ADMITS ROBBING FATHER'S JEWELRY STORE

Guy Balding, 18, and Two Companions of Same Age, Held by Police

On confession of Guy Balding, of 82 Gordon street, that he had been systematically robbing the Jewelry store of his father, A. M. Balding, 17 Edgewood avenue, he and two other youths are held at police station on blanket charges of suspicion.

Balding was arrested Monday morning in the Eighteenson hotel on Peachtree street, with Jack E. Duval, of 245 Houston street, and Harvey A. Meyers, of New London, Conn. All of them are eighteen years old.

Balding admitted to the police and to reporters that he had been taking various articles from his father's shop and pawning them. Pawn tickets for $200 worth of goods were found on the three boys, several of them from shops in New Orleans, where Balding says they went last Thursday to dispose of the jewelry. The police say over $1,000 worth of stuff in all was stolen.

Duval and Meyers, implicated by Balding, deny any connection with the robbery or the disposal of goods.

DR. GEO. D. CASE NAMED FEDERAL DRUG INSPECTOR

Milledgeville Druggist Will Look After Enforcement of Anti-Narcotic Law

A. O. Blalock, collector of internal revenue for Georgia, Monday afternoon announced the appointment of Dr. George D. Case, the well known Milledgeville druggist, to the position of federal drug inspector for the state of Georgia.

Dr. Case was recommended for the place several days ago by Collector Blalock, who sent his name to the treasury department at Washington for confirmation.

Notice that the appointment had been confirmed was received Monday by Collector Blalock.

Dr. Case will enter at once upon his new duties and will travel over the state and see that the new federal anti-narcotic law is strictly enforced.

Six Firemen Hurt

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Six firemen were badly injured today when a motor ladder truck turned over, in a collision with a motor car on Pennsylvania avenue near the capitol.

ATLANTA SIGHTS AND SAYINGS!

BOARD OF CENSORS MAY PASS ON "THE NIGGER"

Has Power to Prohibit Movie If It Meets Their Disapproval

The board of trustees of the Carnegie library, whose vote can prevent the production here of a motion picture passed by the national board of censors, may place its seal of disapproval on "The Nigger," the famous picture for which nearly all Augusta "posed."

In instance where there is "doubt" about the advisability of allowing a picture to be shown here the board first looks it over. The board has ordered that "The Nigger" be exhibited privately before it is flashed on the screen of the Grand theater.

President Harrison Jones, of the library board, has carefully read the advance notices of the pictures and all of the data he could secure about it, and has made arrangements for it to be viewed by the board.

The Fox Film company, which produced "The Nigger," induced prominent Augusta citizens, including the mayor, to take part in it, and even succeeded in getting the use of the National Guard in staging some of the mob scenes. The Augustans thought they were playing a part in the "New Governor," an entirely different picture.

WILSON CAN SEE NO NEED OF CALLING FOR CONGRESS

Presdent Has No Intention of Summoning Lawmakers in Extra Session

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Formal announcement was made at the White House today that, at present, President Wilson has no intention of calling an extra session of the senate or of congress before the beginning of the regular session next December.

It was said the president sees no prospect of any contingency arising which would cause him to alter his present intention.

MANY CANDIDATES FOR JUDGE HARRIS' POSITION

ROME, Ga., March 22.—There will probably be at least half a dozen candidates for the position of Justice of the Peace made vacant by the death of Justice Walter Harris, who held the office for his twenty-sixth consecutive year. The unexpired term of Judge Harris runs until January 1, 1917, and the position pays $2,400 per annum, making it an attractive position for many Romans.

KAISER HOLDS OVER 800,000 PRISONERS OF WAR ON GERMAN SOIL

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, March 22.—(By Wireless.)—"According to an official announcement," says the Overseas Agency, "the number of prisoners of war now in Germany is 801,000 enlisted men and over 9,000 commissioned officers."

WAR COULD HAVE BEEN AVOIDED, GREY ADMITS

Lays Blame on Germany for Refusal to Participate in Conference

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, March 22.—"War might have been avoided by a European conference when and wherever Germany desired," declared Foreign Secretary Grey this afternoon, addressing a gathering here which had assembled to hear a lecturer discuss the strategy of the war. Continuing, the foreign secretary said:

"Germany, from her experience in the Balkan conference, knew she could count on our good will and that we were ready to do last July what we did before. But Germany refused every suggestion. We now know that Germany had prepared for war, and only those who have planned for war can prepare for it.

"This is the fourth time within living memory that Prussia has made war upon Europe, and we are determined it shall be the last.

"The expenditure of hundreds of millions of money and loss of millions of lives might have been averted by a conference of the European powers held in London or at The Hague, or wherever and in whatever form Germany would have consented to hold it. It would have been far easier to have settled the dispute between Austria-Hungary and Serbia which Germany made the occasion for the war than it was to get successfully through the Balkan crisis of two years ago.

"Last July France, Italy and Russia were ready to accept asconference. Germany refused every suggestion made in London or at The Hague, on this way, and on her must rest now and for all time the appalling responsibility of having plunged Europe into this war."

Bain Grows Better

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

SAVANNAH, March 22.—Seaman Bain, the young society man who was shot in a puzzling way on Thursday night near the Golf club grounds, is able to sit up at the Oglethorpe sanitarium. His mother is here with him, having come from Philadelphia.

HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINER IS HALTED BY U. S. SHOTS

Ship Believed to Have Supplies for Warship Held at San Juan

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The Hamburg-American liner Odenwald, stopped from leaving San Juan, Porto Rico, yesterday by shots across her bow, is being held under the recent congressional resolution empowering the president to prevent supplies going from American ports to ships of the European belligerents at sea.

Secretary Garrison is making a thorough investigation in conjunction with treasury department officials and the White House.

Under the resolution the president was authorized to "direct collectors of customs under the jurisdiction of the United States to withhold clearance from any vessel, American or foreign, which he has reasonable cause to believe to be about to carry fuel, arms, ammunition, men, or supplies to any warship, or tender, or supply ship of a belligerent nation, in violation of the obligations of the United States as a neutral nation."

American Ship Is Halted By Shot From the Dolphin

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 22.—The American steamer Santa Clara, outward bound, was stopped in the lower harbor today by a shot fired across her bows by the dispatch boat Dolphin, stationed there to watch outgoing steamers and preserve American neutrality.

A misunderstanding in the interpretation of signals and the failure of the Santa Clara to stop brought the Dolphin's guns to bear upon her. She was promptly released and proceeded.

It's Worth While To Buy Opera Seats At the Season Rates

This week offers the last opportunity to purchase season tickets for grand opera.

For the best seat, a season ticket for seven performances costs $21, or $3 a performance. Bought singly, these seats will cost $5 each.

Next best seats cost $17.50 a season, or $2.50 each. Bought singly they cost $4 each.

The next best cost $12.25 by the season or only $1.75 each. Bought singly they will cost $2.50 each.

The same ratio of reduction applies to all season tickets.

Isn't it worth, while to get seats for the season, even if you join with a neighbor and divide them?

After Saturday only single performance seats can be bought—and at full prices.

RUSSIANS PLANNING FOR A GREAT DRIVE ON ANCIENT CRACOW

Czar's Forces Celebrate Victory With Te Deum Mass. Przemysl Had Been Besieged Since Early War

BERLIN SAYS RUSSIANS ARE DRIVEN FROM MEMEL

Spirited Fighting Continues in West Where French Troops Claim Gains Over the Kaiser's Forces

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The siege of Przemysl came to an end today and the Austrian defenders surrendered to the Russian forces which have been investing it for months.

The fall of Przemysl deprives Austria of her last important fortress in Galicia with the exception of Cracow, near the German border, which the Russians have made several unsuccessful attempts to capture.

The German war office announced today that the city of Memlil in the northern tip of east Prussia, had been retaken from the Russian force which captured it last week.

Fighting continues in northern France, near Arras, in Champagne and in the Argonne. Two spirited battles occurred yesterday in the Argonne and the French authorities claim success in each case, but here, as elsewhere along the western front, the results attained were small.

Simultaneous offensives against the German, Austrian and Turkish armies from the Baltic to the Black sea have been undertaken by the Russians and in some sections definite progress is reported.

In Poland there is activity all along the front, but apparently the general battle which Petrograd experts has not begun.

The Russian army in the Caucasus announces a victory over the Turks in the fighting along the Black sea coast, Turkish Armenia.

After several months of inactivity, hostilities have been resumed between Austria and her small neighbors, Serbia and Montenegro. A Cettinje dispatch says the Austrians made an artillery attack lasting several days against Montenegrin positions all along the front, but that efforts to follow this with infantry advances were defeated. An artillery battle between Austrians and Serbians also is reported.

The attack on the Dardanelles also has been stopped temporarily, owing to bad weather.

LONDON, March 22.—The Central News says the Italian government today stopped all railway freight traffic with Germany by way of Switzerland.

Russians Celebrating Victory With Te Deum Thanksgiving

(By Associated Press.)

PETROGRAD, March 22.—(Via London.)—It was announced officially this morning that the Galician fortress of Przemysl surrendered to the Russians today.

A te deum of thanksgiving was celebrated at Russian army headquarters when the fall of Przemysl was announced. Emperor Nicholas, Grand Duke Nicholas and the members of the general staff participated in the ceremony.

The siege of Przemysl, an Austrian stronghold in the province of Galicia, began in the early days of the war. It has been in effect since December, since the day the Russians invested the city. Several attempts of the Austrians to relieve the fortress failed, in which was made only a short time ago, have failed.

With the fall of Przemysl, the only important fortified town in Galicia which still is in Austrian hands is Cracow, in northwestern Galicia, close to the German border.

Early in the war the Russian offensive campaign as outlined unofficially, contemplated invasion of Germany through East Prussia, on the north, and Silesia by way of Galicia, on the south. The Russians pressed hard in invading Galicia, but the Austrians by holding Przemysl and Cracow, blocked attempts to cross the Silesian border.

DEFENDED WITH VIGOR.

The siege of Przemysl has been one of the most important features of the war in the east. The Austrian garrison defended the city with determination and vigor, and during the earlier months inflicted considerable losses on the Russians by frequent sorties. The only means of communication with the outside world was by wireless telegraphy and aeroplanes.

Although there have been several reports recently that the surrender of Przemysl was imminent, news from the city itself described conditions there as normal, except for the regulations imposed by the military authorities. All supplies of food were taken over by the army officials, who issued rations to soldiers and civilians alike. The last direct word from Przemysl before the announcement of the surrender was that Russian attacks were infrequent and that the defenders had little to do.

Przemysl was well stocked with ammunition and provisions when the siege began. But there have been indications recently that hunger was an effective ally of the Russians. It was reported aeroplanes were making daily flights to Przemysl with cargoes of provisions. Last week the Russians brought down an Austrian aeroplane said to have been laden with tinned beef for Przemysl. Austrian soldiers captured

SPRINGTIME IS HERE BUT WHERE IS SPRING?

Winter Officially Closed Engagement Sunday, but Gives an Encore Unasked

By all the laws of science Sunday was the first day of the year on which the hours of daylight equaled the hours of darkness, for this reason named the vernal equinox, or the first day of spring.

But where were the birdies carroling, the dewdrops and the daffodils, the balmy sunshine and the pipes of Pan all wistful in the greenwood?

Instead, Atlanta shudded under a cloudy sky and winter winds. It snowed Sunday night and the mercury dwindled to twenty-five degrees. Worse, from the weather bureau comes a prediction of frost Monday night and a continuance of weather on the whole rather bitter.

The weather man says it will moderate slightly during the week and the sun will shine, but real spring weather can not be expected for some time. As for the fruit crop, he says, the northern half of the state will benefit from the delayed arrival, but in south Georgia the peach trees already are in bud and should a heavy frost come Monday night—as predicted—there may be some damage.

WOMAN WEAK AND NERVOUS

Finds Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Creston, Iowa.—"I suffered with female troubles from the time I came into womanhood until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would have pains if I overworked or lifted anything heavy, and I would be so weak and nervous and in so much misery that I would be prostrated. A friend told me what your medicine had done for her and I tried it. It made me strong and healthy and our home is now happy with a baby boy I am very glad that I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and do all I can to recommend it."—Mrs. A. B. BOSCAMP, 504 E. Howard Street, Creston, Iowa.

Tons of Roots and Herbs are used annually in the manufacture of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is known from ocean to ocean as the standard remedy for female ills.

For forty years this famous root and herb medicine has been pre-eminently successful in controlling the diseases of women. Merit alone could have stood this test of time.

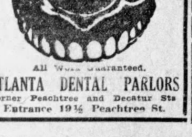

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman.

Acute Articular Rheumatism

The exact cause of rheumatism is unknown, though it is generally believed to be due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. It may be also said with equal truth that no remedy has been found which is a specific in all cases. In fact the literature of rheumatism shows that there are but few drugs which have not been given a trial. In the hands of one observer we find that a certain drug has been used with the utmost satisfaction; others have found the same remedy to be a great disappointment. All physicians however agree that every method of treatment is aided by the administration of some remedy to relieve the pain and quiet the nervous system and Dr. W. B. Schultze expresses the opinion of thousands of practitioners when he says that Anti-Kamnia Tablets should be given preference over all other remedies for the relief of the pain in all forms of rheumatism. These tablets can be purchased in any quantity. They are also unsurpassed in headaches, neuralgia and all pain. Ask for A-K Tablets.

"SURPRISED AND SORRY" SAYS DEAN OF BISHOP

Dr. Atkinson Declares He Had Counted on Bishop Nelson's Support of His Views

Interpreting that portion of his address at the Grand theater Sunday evening in which he said he felt like a man on the battlefield who has been deserted by his general, Dean John R. Atkinson Monday told The Journal that when he said this he was referring to Bishop C. K. Nelson's indorsement of the Chapman-Alexander revival in the revival tabernacle last Friday evening.

To a representative of The Journal who called on him at his apartments at the Georgian Terrace Monday morning Dean Atkinson said:

"In a city the size of Atlanta there is a large element of people, mostly young people, who are not attached to any church. It was for the purpose of reaching these people that the downtown meetings on Sunday evenings were inaugurated. The first meetings were held at the Savoy theater and later the use of the Grand theater was tendered and accepted.

"Bishop Nelson and the Atlanta clergy of course indorsed the meetings. The bishop himself conducted the first one held at the Savoy theater and made the address.

"In my address to the Atlanta Ad Men's club I took occasion to express certain views concerning the Chapman-Alexander revival. They were not my individual views but the views of the Episcopal church toward revivals in general. In our church we believe there is a more wholesome way to save souls than by means of revivals.

SURPRISED AND HURT.

"My views expressed to the Ad Men were severely criticised. Instead of receding from my views, I reiterated them at our next Sunday night meeting, held at the Grand, which in the meantime had been tendered to us.

"Of course I felt that I had the support of the bishop. My criticism of the revival was not the purpose for which the downtown meetings had been inaugurated. What I said about the revival was merely an incident. But what I said was in accord with the views of my church concerning revivals, and therefore I took for granted there would be no question of the bishop's support of these views. Mind you, I did not say there was no good in the revivals. I simply took the position my church takes, namely: that there is a more wholesome way to save souls than by the revival method.

"Consequently when the bishop stood upon the rostrum of the tabernacle and indorsed the revival it placed me in the attitude of being opposed by him, and I was surprised and hurt. I felt, as I said at the Grand Sunday night, as a man on the battlefield if his general deserted him.

"To better illustrate my feeling. Suppose you come to the hotel and ask me for an interview, as you have done. And suppose I see you and try to tell you what you want to know and treat you as nicely as I know how, and then suddenly you haul off and strike me a blow in the face. I would be surprised. I would be indignant. I would be hurt and sorry.

BISHOP NOT CRITICISED.

"Do not understand, however, that I criticised the bishop in my address at the Grand last night. That I would not do. If the bishop sees fit to indorse our downtown Sunday night meetings, and then sees fit to indorse the good in the revival as he sees it, he has a perfect right to do so."

In his address Sunday evening which was heard by a crowd that overflowed the Grand Dean Atkinson reiterated his position concerning revivals in general and the Chapman-Iexander revival in particular, and declared he was not going to be silenced by the bishop's indorsement of the revival.

Preceding Dean Atkinson's address Dr. W. W. Memminger, rector of All Saints' Episcopal church, read to the audience a resolution indorsing Dean Atkinson which was adopted by the chapter of St. Philip's cathedral Sunday morning. The resolution read as follows:

"Resolved, that, in view of the present prominence taken by St. Philip's cathedral in the religious and civic life of the city, the chapter of the cathedral affirm their unqualified indorsement of the truth and righteousness of every position Dean Atkinson has taken; their confidence in him as a faithful, courageous and able man of God and of Christ as a faithful shepherd of his people and a powerful voice toward preparing the way of the Lord and making his paths straight.

(Signed) "E. H. BOYLSTON,
"Secretary of Chapter, St. Philip's Cathedral."

Bishop Nelson was out of the city Monday and no statement could be obtained from him.

YOU CAN HEAR OPERA IN COLUMBIA RECORDS

Bulletin Just Issued by Company Gives Many of Favorites

Atlantians who wish to familiarize themselves with the operas which will be sung here this spring, have a wonderful opportunity to do so through Columbia graphophone records.

In its latest bulletin, the Columbia company announces that nearly all the operatic favorites have been produced on records completely so that one can sit in his own home and hear an entire opera from the first note of the overture to the last before the curtain falls.

Other records of interest announced by the Columbia company are ten dance discs, including such popular hits as "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier," one-step played by Prince's band; "When You're a Long, Long Way From Home," one-step, and "Polka Populaire," composed especially for the new Castle polka.

EDW. M. EVANS, WELL KNOWN PRINTER, IS DEAD

Edward M. Evans, sixty-three years old, a well known printer of Atlanta, died Suddenly Sunday afternoon at his home, 541 Highland avenue. He had been a resident of Atlanta for the past thirty years and was highly regarded. He was a member of Trinity Methodist church.

Surviving him are his wife; two sons, C. H. Evans, of Clearwater, Fla., and J. W. Evans, of Atlanta; one daughter, Mrs. L. E. Rogers, of Atlanta; two sisters, Mrs. J. T. Coogler, of Atlanta, and Mrs. R. L. Gibson, of Chester, S. C., and one brother, S. M. Evans, of Atlanta.

The funeral will be held at the residence Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, and interment will be in West View.

during unsuccessful sorties said the garrison was existing on famine rations and that the hospitals were crowded.

KEY TO AUSTRIA.

Przemysl has been described as the key to the Austrian empire. Russian commentators have predicted that its occupation would facilitate operations against the Austrian interior hitherto attended by only insignificant results. Beyond Przemysl lies a great and prosperous wheat country.

The city is 60 miles west of Lemberg, which the Russians captured several months ago. It is a thriving city of about 60,000, the majority of whom are Poles. It is on the San river and is the seat of a Roman Catholic bishop and a Greek Catholic uniat bishop. It was founded in the eighth century and in the seventeenth century it was invaded by Tartars, Cossacks and Swedes, and virtually destroyed. It soon was rebuilt and became an important commercial and military center.

The city was defended strongly by outer and inner forts well equipped with modern artillery.

60,000 Men May Have Been Taken Prisoners

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, March 22.—The great Galician fortress of Przemsyl, which the Austrians had so staunchly defended since the early days of the war, fell into the hands of the Russian besiegers this morning.

The last of the improvised field fortifications were captured some days ago and the final act of the drama began toward the close of last week when the commandant deliberately expended his reserve ammunition and sent the bulk of the garrison out in the forlorn hope of cutting its way eastward through the besiegers.

With the strong Russian line tightly drawn around the fortress the effort apparently was hopeless from the start, and 8,000 Austrian prisoners fell into the hands of the Russians, while as many more fell dead or wounded. The shattered remnants of the force fled back to the fortress and there now have fallen into the hands of the Russians.

The garrison of Przemsyl originally numbered 60,000 or 80,000 men, but sorties and shells must have cut a considerable number of thousands from that total.

The besieging army is understood to number about 120,000 officers and men. This force will now march on the strong Austrian fortress of Cracow, 125 miles to the east of Przemsyl, it being the announced determination of the Russian commander in chief to reduce the ancient Polish capital as speedily as possible.

An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Petrograd says great enthusiasm was manifest there on receipt of the news. Crowds thronged the streets, cheering and indulging in patriotic demonstrations.

The fortress was occupied by Russian troops immediately.

London Announces Two Other Russian Victories

LONDON, March 22.—Two Russian successes at the extremities of a 600-mile front are reported today from Petrograd.

The seaport of Memel, on the Baltic, in East Prussia, is definitely in the hands of the Russians, but the place is of little strategic importance, as it is surrounded by swamps which, in view of the break up of winter, make impossible any further advance from that direction. The Memel movement does, however, take the Invaders into a part of East Prussia hitherto free from invasion and it may for this reason have some political effect.

At the other end of the line the Russians are advancing in Bukowina in the direction of Czernowitz. They now are due east of that city on the line of the River Pruth and they need only to cross the river again to be in possession of the capital of Bukowina.

Storms again have intervened to give the Dardanelles forts a rest, according to information given out in London. A report of the Dardanelles fighting of March 18 received from Constantinople declares the allies' vessels fired on this day 2,000 shells without silencing a single Turkish battery.

The recrudescence of Zeppelin activity with the throwing of bombs on Paris revived a flagging interest in aerial warfare, but little fear is felt here that the Germans will follow up the Paris attack with a raid on London.

Time a Russian advance in the direction of Svednikk résulted in occupation of a row of villages extending to the south from this town.

Attack after attack by the Austrians to the south of Kostiouvka ended in failure with considerable losses.

Russians Driven From Memel, Declares Berlin

(By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, March 22.—(By Wireless.)—An official statement given out today by the German army headquarters says:

"A fresh attempt to take the German position on the south slope of the Lorette heights was made last night, but resulted in failure. Another French night attack, this time north of Le Mesnil in the Champagne district also was without success. Furthermore, all the French efforts to win back the position at Reich Ackerkopf resulted in failure.

"The Russians yesterday were driven from Memel, on the Baltic sea in east Prussia, after a short engagement to the south of the town followed by tenacious fighting in the streets. Under the protection of Russian troops, a Russian mob looted the private property of German citizens in Memel. Carloads of goods were conveyed across the frontier. A special report on this looting will be published.

"North of Mariampol Russian attacks have been repulsed with heavy Russian losses. West of the Orzyc river near Jadnorosak; to the northeast of Przesnysz, and to the northwest of Ciechanow Russian attacks by night and by day have broken down under the German fire. Russian prisoners to the number of 420 were captured."

G. W. Armistead Dies

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 22.—A special from Hopkinsville, Ky., says that George Wesley Armistead died there Sunday night. He was a lieutenant in the Confederate navy and as a member of President Davis' escort was captured at Washington, Ga., two hours before Davis' capture.

Frank T. Bliss Dead

CHICAGO, March 22.—Frank T. Bliss, a prominent member of the board of trade and widely known to the grain trade, died suddenly here today of heart disease.

ATLANTA FOR CHRIST

BE FAIR---

If one followed you today, would he find your Saviour with you in your home, or club, your place of trade or work?

ARE YOU YOURSELF FOLLOWING JESUS?

If so, come and bring your friends---your loved ones---to the Tabernacle. They may find H m there.

"Jesus of Nazareth is passing by."
If you have slipped away, return today.

And you, who have never found your Lord, will you not come and see for yourself?

Tonight, after a song-service at 7:30, led by Alexander, Dr. Chapman speaks on---

"The Second Coming of Christ"

Everywhere, people are asking---

"Are the battles in Europe and the world unrest, the stress and strain bearing upon us---are these the signs which Jesus said would show His return to be near?"

The dullest know---all mankind are in the throes of a crisis.

What does it mean?

YOU SHOULD COME AND HEAR.

U. S. TO TAKE PART IN WAR, BELIEVES PASTOR RUSSELL

Present Conflict Simply Prelude to Armageddon, Noted Preacher Declares

Declaring that the present war is simply the prelude to Armageddon, which is clearly outlined throughout the Bible, and has been predicted by himself in sermons for the past forty years, Pastor Russell, of the Brooklyn tabernacle, preached at the Atlanta theater Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Atlanta branch of the International Bible Students of America.

The present war, Pastor Russell asserts, is the first of the three distinct stages of trouble for this world, which are predicted and clearly outlined by the Bible. The present war, he says, will weaken the nations and enlighten the people. It will be followed by a great revolution, which in turn will be followed by a period of anarchy, in which all of the world's present institutions will be destroyed and will end the preparation for the coming of the Messiah's kingdom.

PRAYERS UNANSWERED.

Discussing President Wilson's advice that the world pray for peace, Pastor Russell says: "For twenty-five hundred years God, through the Bible prophets, has been telling His people about this great war and concerning the more terrible Armageddon which will follow it and we can't expect Him to reverse the program at our behest."

Pastor Russell predicts that the prayer of the Germans for the success of the German arms; of the allies for the success of their arms, and the prayers of the neutrals for the speedy end of the conflict will all go unanswered. The war will proceed, he says, and will eventuate in no glorious victory for any nation, but in the horrible mutilation and impoverishment of all.

Pastor Russell is of the opinion that it is part of the great Biblical plan that this nation be also involved in the conflict and in this connection he says:

UNITED STATES MAY BE INVOLVED.

"Apparently all of the nations will yet be involved. Our president and our secretary of state are men of peace and will surely do all in their power to avoid complications and war itself. Nevertheless the great nations of Europe, realizing how much they will be weakened by this war, will do all in their power to ensnare these United States, lest at the conclusion of the war we should be lower above the others financially and otherwise."

NEGRO BURGLAR CREATES EXCITEMENT IN SMYRNA

Enters One Home and Attempts to Break Into Two Others

Great excitement prevailed in Smyrna early Sunday morning when a negro burglar attempted to enter the homes of H. N. Hughes and P. R. Crissey, and then broke into A. C. Barfield's house by wrenching off the back door. Bloodhounds were put on the burglar's trail, and Will Hill, a negro, was arrested.

The marauder waked persons in H. N. Hughes' house by trying to get in, but did not succeed in forcing the back door. Then the man went to Mr. Crissey home. Mr. Crissey was away, but Mrs. Crissey woke up, heard the negro, and ran, screaming, out of the house.

A few minutes later Mrs. Barfield, whose husband was also away, screamed as the man entered her house after pulling the back door off its hinges.

Headed by Marshal Plennie Alexander, a posse was formed and bloodhounds trailed a negro to a shack a mile away. Mrs. Crissey and Mrs. Barfield identified the negro, who wore bright tan shoes and a light blue suit.

The man, who denied being the burglar, gave his name as Will Hill. He was taken to Marietta in an automobile and placed in custody of Sheriff W. E. Swanson of Cobb county.

DR. RIDLEY THANKFUL FOR "MEN LIKE CHAPMAN"

Pastor Says Evangelist Will Not Lower Standard to Make Convert

"Men's Attitude Toward Christ on the Cross" was the subject of the Sunday evening sermon of Rev. Caleb A. Ridley, of the Central Baptist church.

He used the scene of the crucifixion as the basis of his sermon, and drew lessons from the groups who surrounded the cross.

Incidentally he paid respects to the "easy-going, dance hall type of religion," which, he said, was a compromise of worldly-minded men and women. "Let us thank God for men like Chapman," said Dr. Ridley, "who will not lower the standard to make a convert."

DEMONSTRATION STATION IS PROBABLE FOR BROOKS

Following a conference in Atlanta Saturday between agents of the state and federal departments of agriculture, it was announced that Brooks county may be selected as a site for a federal demonstration station.

Federal agents are in the county actively at work and have been experimenting with products of Brooks county for some months. Special experiments in pig club work are being made by the government.

PASTOR RUSSELL DENIES TRAILING DR. CHAPMAN

Revivalist Says He Does and Will Talk About Him Monday Night

Pastor Russell, of Brooklyn Tabernacle, who lectured at the Atlanta theater Sunday on "The Battle of Armageddon," will be the suojcct of remarks by Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman Monday evening at the Peachtree tabernacle.

The evangelist announced this Sunday afternoon preceding his sermon to men only on "Three Perils Threatening Atlanta," at which he holds a revival, Dr. Chapman said, Pastor Russell invariably turns up with a message which he, Chapman, wishes to tell Atlanta some facts about.

Informed of Dr. Chapman's announcement, Pastor Russell said that he is not "spoiling for a fight with any one, but that if Dr. Chapman or any other minister seeks to debate with him on his doctrine, he will be glad to accommodate him.

As for the charge that he trails the Chapman-Alexander forces everywhere they go, Pastor Russell said his own meeting was arranged long ago. He indorsed Dr. Chapman as a sincere man and said, "Get Right With God" was a good motto which every one ought to adopt.

The three perils threatening Atlanta were named as follows in Dr. Chapman's Sunday afternoon sermon: The social evil, strong drink, unbelief or the rejection of Christ.

Sunday night Dr. Chapman pre hed on the subject, "Jesus of Na areth Passeth By." He called upon his hearers to accept the Christ who was ever among them, knocking for admitta e at their doors, passing by them in the streets and in public places. I response to his appeal, a large n aber crowded forward down the s dust aisles.

The number of revival converts to date is more than 3,000, according to statements given out Monday by Dr. Marion H. McHull, chairman of the general committee in charge of the revival.

JOHN M. LOCKE DISCUSSES "AN ORGANIZED LAITY"

John M. Locke, an importer of New York and San Francisco, addressed a large gathering of members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and their friends Sunday afternoon at the Piedmont hotel. Mr. Locke's subject was "An Organized Laity." He stressed the need of practicing Christianity in the daily lives of men and the need of a "go-between" between the clergy and the ordinary laymen. He declared these men could reach a class the priests and preachers could never reach.

He urged members of the brotherhood to wear their official button, small red cross, and to bear in mind its significance.

USE COCOANUT OIL FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last every one in the family for months.—(Advt.)

FRIENDS UNEASY ABOUT JUDGE ROAN'S CONDITION

Is Not Doing as Well as Expected, Following an Operation

A telegram was received in Atlanta Monday morning by a member of his family stating that Judge L. S. Roan, who recently was operated on in a New York hospital, is not doing so well.

The operation took place two weeks ago last Saturday and he was thought to be steadily improving, up to the time the last telegram was sent. It is now feared he may have had a serious turn for the worse.

Judge Roan for many years presided over the criminal division of Fulton superior court, and is loved by a host of friends.

For a year or more his health has been on the decline. Last July he went north for treatment and complete rest. Two months ago Mrs. Roan joined him, and about a month ago they proceeded to New York for his operation. She is with him now.

DIRECTORY COMPANY SUED FOR DAMAGES

The Atlanta City Directory company is made defendant in two suits for damages, aggregating $10,000, filed in the superior court Monday by W. M. Cozzens and Emmett P. Simmons, through their attorneys, Bell & Ellis and George L. Bell, Jr. The plaintiffs, both white men, allege that in the 1914 city directory the letter c is placed after their names, signifing colored, a libel which has greatly injured their good name, reputation and fame, and for which they ask $5,000 apiece.

Thursday, communion at 10:30 a. m.; Little Helpers' meeting, 3 p. m.; evening prayer at 5:30 p. m. Friday, Children's service at 4 p. m.; evening prayer at 8 p. m., sermon by Archdeacon Webber, of New York.

SIXTEEN MULES BURNED TO DEATH IN BIG BARN

Early Morning Blaze Destroys Stable and Adjoining Blacksmith Shop

Sixteen mules and a quantity of feed were burned in a fire which destroyed the large stable of J. S. Jackson, contractor, at Howell Mill road and Marietta street, Monday morning at 2 o'clock. The blacksmith shop of Randall Dunbar, next door, was also destroyed.

The fire started, it is thought, by spontaneous combustion in the depths of some stored feed. The damage amounted to several thousand dollars. The flames spread so rapidly that the mules in the stable perished before they could be taken out.

The stable and the balcksmith shop were both burned to the ground. Engines of the Atlanta fire department responded and kept the flames from spreading.

MISS WALKER DIES AT HOME OF SISTER

Miss Mary Lou Walker, thirty-one years old, died suddenly Monday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. John O. Campbell, 24 Kuhns avenue. Though she had been ill for some years, her death was a shock to her many friends.

Surviving her are her father, Charles R. Walker, two sisters, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Sidney J. Wash, and one brother, Sam A. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the chapel of Barclay & Brandon Co. Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. John Purser will officiate and the interment will be in West View cemetery.

ROME WANTS TO BE ON NEW DIXIE HIGHWAY

PABLO CASALS
The World's Greatest 'Cellist makes his first records
Pablo Casals, the great Spanish 'cellist who is this season making a tour of America is at once one of the world's rarest artists and one of the supreme masters of music. Casals is the Ysaye of the 'cello
To hear Pablo Casals—and this can be said of Casals only—is to realize the full and magnificent possibilities of the violoncello as a medium for the interpretation of music. His tone is by long odds the purest ever evoked from this instrument and in all technical details his is the word of last authority. It is, however, in the general sum of his splendid musicianship and his breadth of mentality above all else that he challenges comparison. And his first records are Columbia Records—he is an exclusive Columbia Artist. Ask your dealer to play them for you. These are four selections that you'll prize.

The Week-End At the Clubs

The bright weather of Saturday afternoon assembled a large number of guests at the Druid Hills Golf club for the usual week end tea dance, and in the evening congenial parties were gathered for the dinner dances at the Piedmont club and the Capital City club. The first dance held in several weeks at the Athletic club brought out many of the club members and their friends on Saturday evening.

Druid Hills Golf Club.

Among those seen at the Druid Hills club were Mr. and Mrs. Preston Arkwright, Mr. James H. Nunnally, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Adair, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. G. To Miss Stewart

The matinee party at which Mrs. Hugh Inman Battye will entertain Tuesday at the Forsyth theater will be a pretty compliment to Miss Eloise Stewart, a bride-elect of March.

The guests will include Miss Stewart, Miss Annes Selden, of Washington City; Miss Josephine Mobley, Miss Louise Hawkins, Miss Hattie Orr, Miss Adrienne Battey, Mrs. Blair Armstrong, Mrs. Marion Benson, Mrs. Estes Bussey, Mrs. Robert McCord and Mrs. George Bonney.

Suffrage Teas Changed to Wednesday

The suffrage teas given under the auspices of the Fulton and DeKalb counties' branch will henceforth take place on Wednesdays instead of Mondays. This change was made to suit the convenience of the many church workers who are also interested in suffrage.

This week Mrs. Conrad Hibbeler, Mrs. R. Cason, Mrs. Linton C. Hopkins and Mrs. Moreland Speer will give suffrage teas in their respective wards. The programs are unusually interesting. Mrs. Bonham, from Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Reily, from Oregon, will tell of interesting work going on in other parts of the United States. Mrs. Milton Arrowwood and Miss Ida Melson will talk of suffrage in general and of what is expected to be accomplished in Georgia.

Dances at The Clubs

The Argentine Club Dance

One of the brightest and gayest events of the past week was the Argentine club dance, held at the club rooms in West End Friday night. This was the largest and best affair yet given by the Argentine club, and was attended by nearly seventy couples.

The club had as honor guests several visiting young ladies, including Miss Eleanor Malone, of Newport, R. I., Miss Francis Bullock, of Providence, R. I., and Miss Lillian Christensen, of New York City.

Also Miss Effie Parker, of Mountain View, who is spending her Easter vacation at Rome, and her guest, Miss Geraldine Hay, of Macon, Ga.

The pleasures of the evening were added by the company of the following chaperons: Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Thayer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Brotherton, Mr. and Mrs. William Lawson Peel, Mr. and Mrs. Judge Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Earle Yancey, Mrs. R. H. Hawkins, Jr., and Mrs. Marshall Walker, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. The next dance of the Argentine club will be held at the club rooms, Friday evening, April 2, for which the officers and directors have some special plans for the entertainment of those attending.

On friday evening, April 16, the Argentine club will celebrate its first anniversary with what is planned to be the best and largest affair they have yet held, the dance being added to by many entertaining features and interesting contests.

MRS. LEONORA H. PACE DEAD IN WASHINGTON

Widow of Capt. J. M. Pace, of Covington, Dies at Home of Son

News was received in Atlanta Monday of the death of Mrs. Leonora H. Pace, which occurred early Monday morning at the home of her son, Lewis D. Pace, in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Pace was a daughter of the late General Hugh A. Haralson, of LaGrange, and was one of four sisters, the other three being Mrs. E. S. Overby, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. John B. Gordon, widow of the late General John B. Gordon, and the late Mrs. Logan E. Bleckley, widow of the late Georgia supreme court justice.

Mrs. Pace was the widow of the late Captain J. M. Pace, of Covington, Ga., where she made her home until his death about a year ago, and where she was prominently identified with the religious, charitable and social interests of the community.

She was a devoted member of the Methodist church, an indefatigable worker in the Federation of Women's clubs, and a prominent figure in the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Daughters of the Confederacy.

She is survived by four children, Lewis D. Pace, Washington, D. C.; Haral Pace, Blue Ridge, Ga.; Mrs. Lucy P. Owsley, Philadelphia; Mrs. Annie P. Wooten, Covington.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at Covington, and interment will be in the Covington cemetery beside the grave of her husband.

THEATERS

Joseph Jefferson and company and Charley Ahearn's newest thriller, "The Demon Cyclists," share first honors in an all-star bill to be presented by the Forsyth theater this week. Jefferson, the son of the noted "Rip Van Winkle," offers an ingenious playlet, "Poor Old Jim," in which he is supported by a splendid cast, including the noted Blanche Bender. The Ahearn cyclists come direct from Broadway, to which they have returned after a triumphant tour of Europe, with a brand new death-defier, a race between madman cyclist and high-powered motor.

"The Celebrated Scandal," a stage sensation in America and Europe for seasons, is the vehicle in which Betty Nansen, the illustrious Danish star of the Royalty theater, Copenhagen, will make her film debut to Atlanta picture lovers. "The Celebrated Scandal" will be the offering at the Grand theater Monday and Tuesday, after which comes Carlyle Blackwell's "The High Hand," his latest production.

Seats will be placed on sale for the engagement of "Lady Luxury" at the Atlanta Tuesday morning. The play comes Friday and Saturday with a Saturday matinee, and there has been considerable interest, as this is the first musical comedy to visit Atlanta in several weeks and has the advantage of coming well recommended from an engagement at the Casino in New York.

CATHEDRAL CHOIR TO SING STAINER'S CRUCIFIXION

Next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock Stainer's Crucifixion will be sung by the choir of St. Philip's cathedral. The work abounds in solo numbers. Wilford Whatley will render the principal solos. The trumpet will be in the hands of C. E. Barber. The text deals with the Passion of Christ, and the Seven Words from the Cross are introduced as choruses for men's voices.

Some choruses and chorales are also interspersed. The performance will be directed by Sidney Cooper, organist and choirmaster of the cathedral.

The Facts and Figures of a Rather Remarkable

Sale of Wash Goods

Tomorrow morning when the store opens you may share in a sale of wash goods that is remarkable—in several ways.

The prices have no justification; they are low beyond any reason.

The goods are wanted kinds—such as are needed for women's and children's dresses, waists and skirts.

That we have made the prices so low but follows our custom of really enlisting your help when it comes time for us to dispose of odd lots, short pieces and the like.

A World of New Blouses

Surely the Attractive Diversity of Styles AND THE PRICES Will Make it Easy to Select Yours For Easter

We just got in a most beautiful quantity of new and different blouses---literally hundreds of them that must inspire a woman at once with the thought that here she will find just what she wants.

The display is about as broad as the styles for spring would admit; and the prices—you shall see that they are, in several instances, low beyond reason.

All the favored fabrics are represented—

Georgette Crepes, Crepe de Chines and Pussy Willow Taffetas Lead

And the color card shows the new grays, blues, the sand shades, flesh, maize and white. High-low collars are the favored; loops and pearl buttons; long sleeves.

Among the Most Notable Values are Blouses at $2.25, $3.45, $3.75, $5.75

At $2.25 A pussy willow (washable) blouse, with high-low collar, pearl buttons and loops, long sleeves, that is a bit more than the price would indicate. This in navy, sand, flesh and white.

At $3.45 A Georgette crepe waist that buttons high around the neck or turns back loosely, as you please; pearl buttons and loops. This in flesh and white. Another of pussy willow or crepe de chine has a tucked front—most attractive—in maize, flesh, peach and white. A lace and crepe de chine blouse at this price is smart—flesh and gold combined.

At $3.75 A small few of self-striped crepes de chine, in oyster white and flesh—with clear pearl buttons and loops down the front, the high and low collar and long sleeves. It is to be compared with waists selling at a considerably higher price.

At $5.75 Pussy willow and crepe de chine blouses of distinctive styles, plain shades and white with colored stripes. They are pleated so as to add to the effect of the stripes—and surely women must like the unusually large pearl buttons that are used.

And still we have told of but a mere handful of the styles---there are others and others---all interesting.

Now let the most ancient inhabitant come forward and beat this for the second day of spring.

The Value of Civic Advertising.

"As you may have surmised, I have been making a thorough canvass of possibilities, not only in Georgia, but in the entire South; and the result of my inquiries has been a source of amazement and satisfaction. Georgia has been by far the most responsive, and the character of the information furnished, as well as the uniformly cordial invitations, have practically determined the matter."

The foregoing is from a letter to the secretary of the Brunswick board of trade from a man of important business and professional interests in Cleveland, Ohio, who wished to identify himself with some Southern community. His remarks attest the value of organized public spirit and show, as the Brunswick Evening Banner observes, that Georgia is especially alert in advertising its resources. He studied the opportunities of a number of Southern States, and was impressed by them all. But he was most impressed by the reports from Georgia, "the character of the information furnished and the uniformly cordial invitations." He has decided accordingly to locate at Brunswick, and to join the constructive forces of the State.

There is no reckoning the good that an efficient board of trade or chamber of commerce may accomplish. Atlanta is continually securing new industries through the industrial bureau of its chamber of commerce. Georgia is continually attracting new capital and citizens through the State Chamber of Commerce. Brunswick has good reason to be proud of its own board of trade; and scores of towns throughout Georgia are growing in wealth and prestige because they are wise enough to maintain organizations of this kind.

The first straw hat will now do a ground hog act.

We see no other solution but to have the Mexican syndicate of presidents resign in favor of General Scott.

Money Orders With South America.

The announcement that official negotiations are under way for the exchange of postal money orders between the United States and the leading countries of South America marks another forward step in the development of business relationships between ourselves and our Latin neighbors. The ascendancy of British and German interests in South American trade has been due largely to their maintenance of banking facilities among the people with whom they dealt. Our own merchants and manufacturers, on the contrary, have had to rely for the most part on European exchange, a fact which gave their competitors a distinct advantage.

The proposed exchange of postal money orders is only one item in a broadly constructive plan of improvement. Under new Federal Reserve act, United States banks are authorized and encouraged to establish branches in foreign countries; and at least one great bank has definitely undertaken such service in Latin America.

Further, capital in the United States has recently shown willingness and capacity to make Latin-American loans and to aid in forwarding Latin-American enterprise. Such activities prepare the way for commercial advancement, and presage a new era of business intercourse between the two Americas.

The Zeppelin must still remain more of a county fair proposition than an engine of war.

With President Wilson in Washington and Colonel House in Berlin, the international situation should be well taken care of.

Fortunate America.

It is estimated that during the last three months the United States has sold daily to foreign countries goods worth five million dollars more than those it bought. For the second week of March, the excess of exports over imports amounted to fifty million dollars, and since January the first our favorable balance of trade has exceeded three hundred and twenty-three millions. "A continuance of this condition," it is well said, "will change the United States, perhaps permanently, from a debtor to a creditor nation." The fact is, we are now a creditor nation, New York, for the present at least, having supplanted London as the world's capital of finance.

These circumstances are of significance to business the nation over, for they mean that American products are in greater demand than ever before, that American energy and enterprise face unprecedented opportunities, and that the American people are the most fortunate on the earth.

The disadvantage of naming cigars for General Hindenburg would be that the sale would be hurt in England, France and Russia.

Why We Protest.

The Journal is asked by a correspondent: "How can the United States make such a protest against England blockading German ports? Did not the United States blockade the Southern ports in time of the Civil War? England submitted to that, although her navy was far superior, and she could have entered our ports had she tried to do so."

As a matter of fact, the United States does not protest against England blockading German ports. It protests against the plan of England and her allies to accomplish by mere flat, or by irregular and illegal methods, results which nothing short of an actual use of naval power off the coasts of the enemy can rightfully bring to pass. The Allies have neither attempted nor declared a blockade of German ports. On the contrary, the British Order in Council studiously avoids the term "blockade," and does so for the apparent reason that the Allies are unwilling to assume the responsibilities of a blockade. They purpose, however, to stop all commerce between neutral countries and Germany, regardless of whether that commerce be of contraband character. Furthermore, they purpose to stop commerce between neutral countries themselves, as, for instance, between the United States and Holland and the Scandinavian States, if the ultimate destination of such commerce is suspected to be Germany. This in effect is an arbitrary order that neutral countries shall carry on no European trade except with Great Britain and her allies. Such a policy is unwarranted and intolerable.

Should the Allies establish an actual blockade of Germany, neutrals would be bound by law and precedent to respect it, whatever hardships it might impose on their trade interests. But the blockade must be direct and real and must be in keeping with certain well-defined requirements, among them being "the actual presence of a sufficient force, stationed at the entrance of the ports (or in adjacent waters) sufficiently near to prevent communication." A lawful blockade, moreover, "must be applied impartially to the ships of all nations," and "must be confined to particular and specific places, with sufficient force near to intercept the entry of vessels."

The present policy of the Allies is at variance with all these requirements. They make no pretense of maintaining a naval force near the entrance of German ports. They make no pretense of enforcing their order at "particular and specific places." They cannot apply it "impartially to the ships of all nations" unless they send their war vessels into the now perilous waters between Germany and Denmark, Norway and Sweden. Those countries can continue sending goods to Germany by the Baltic, though their trade with the United States and other neutrals will be damaged. The fact is, the Allies cannot make a blockade impartial or in any other respect lawful unless they make it an actual blockade of German ports. Instead of that, they propose to seize the ships of peaceful nations at points far distant from the enemy's coasts. They propose, in effect, to blockade neutral ports instead of German ports.

It is against this unjust policy that the United States protests, just as it protested against Germany's lawless "war zone" around the British Isles. The blockade of the Confederacy's ports, to which our correspondent refers, was formally proclaimed and was enforced with all the naval power at the Union's command. In the present case, there is no proclamation of a blockade and no pretense of enforcing a blockade.

We hope that Italy will make a decision one way or another, either to fight or to continue as an innocent bystander.

Another court of arbitration is necessary to decide whether the British men of war in the Dardanelles were blown up by mines or torpedoes or shells from the Turk forts.

But they continue to eat them, for a Britisher knows a good thing even when it is "made in Germany." The Journal's Letter Box

(The Journal welcomes short letters on seasonable subjects; but long epistles are a weariness to the flesh. In no circumstances will anonymous communications be published.)

Atlanta, Ga., March 16, 1915.

Dear Mr. Editor: Not so very long ago I saw a piece in The Journal one Sunday about a little girl and a piece that wrote some poetry or prose or something I can't remember right now, but any way I noticed it and I thought it was very good. I thought then that I would try to write some poetry to music. Please excuse it if you don't like it. I wrote it today in about 30 or 35 minutes. I am only twelve years old, so if it is not good, please don't publish it. It is as follows:

My mother dear,
Don't have a fear,
For in the land of the sky,
I'll meet my Saviour by and by.

Darling mother,
My days will soon be past,
You know how I suffer,
I will soon breathe my last.

But my mother dear,
Don't shed a tear,
For in that land
We shall walk hand in hand.

Mother, I am going fast
To that land in the sky,
But listen—my day is past,
So mother dear, good-by.

Maybe it will do for the first time. If there is any mistakes please won't you make the corrections and next time I will try to do better. I remani yours ever.

BY JIGSAW.

Lima is one of the strongholds of the church. It is said that Toledo, Spain, is the only other city in the Catholic world which has more houses of worship, per capita, than the capital of Peru.

From a high place their towers and spires are almost as numerous as trees standing in the forest. And they represent great wealth. Time was when the church property constituted one-seventh of the total valuation of the city, and it must be nearly as much now.

The cathedral is a most stately edifice. It is now quite old and gray, for the foundation was laid by Pizarro himself. It took ninety years to build. In fact, the records show that it was more than a century before the imposing towers were completed upon the great foundations the iron-hearted conqueror laid down for them.

The present archbishop is the twenty-sixth in the line. The principal portal is the Door of Pardon. The large pedestal which crowns the whole bears the statue of St. John the Evangelist, the patron of the cathedral. There is an eagle at his fet and a book and pen in his hand.

The second door of the transcept opens on the court of the orange trees, which is precisely like that of the same name in Seville in faraway Spain. On the pantheon are the remains of the Conqueror and his daughter, Francisca, who left a fortune to defray the expense of celebrating a daily mass at the high altar. The visitor may see the tombs of the archbishops and the very body of Pizarro, which is yet quite well preserved. One can see what a big, strong man he really was, and that he had only one eye, the other having been put out from a javelin thrust.

Sonnets on Easter Hats

I.

Now mother slowly counts the fleeting weeks,
Which must elapse before the Eastertide.
At millinery openings she seeks
The newest shapes; she'd gladly lay aside
Her winter hat. It looks forlorn, alas;
For it has lost the sprightliness of youth.
She dreads to pin it on before the glass,
And longs to give it to the maid in truth.
She does not think that she would care for black,
Though black is simple and certain not to fade;
And she could vary it—she has the knack.
Well, which would suit her better, straw or braid?
One thing she knows—it must be chic and rare;
And if the price is high she will not care.

II.

It's father's way to laugh a women's frills,
Their changing fashions and their fol de rols;
His laughter ceases when he gets the bills,
For then his sudden anger forth he bawls.
His clothes, he boasts, are sensible and cheap—
He cannot see the fun for fuss and show,
And ye the records that his tailor keep
Would indicate their prices are not low.
He does not need to plan and search the shops
Of all his cares his raiment is the least;
It waits his disposition. Now he stops
His duties, mindful of the coming feast,
And goes to purchase, from a dealer near,
A hat just like the one he's worn all year.

Costumes for the Movies.

Most of the costumes used by actresses in moving picture companies are designed by men. Some of them are of cheapest materials, one man having turned out seven bonnets of elaborate design for less than $1. They were of cotton goods trimmed with cheap flowers. In contrast to this low price is a dress draped with lace veils valued at $2,000, and claimed to be over a century old. Other gowns have been shown in the movies which cost $1,400 or $1,500.

Effectiveness is the feature most sought for in movie costumes. Colors and richness of fabrics can be simulated. The old style dresses, especially those with hoops, are not easy to produce now, although one, recently used by a southern film company contained over twenty yards of material.

The equipment of soldiers with uniforms of a bygone period at a reasonable cost is another problem for the movie costumer. Sometimes several hundred uniforms are wanted for a single play. The costumes are provided by the film companies almost always, as are also the make-up materials. These last are far stronger than those used for regular theatricals and are used in surprisingly large quantities. A number of film companies have special formulas for the make-up materials used in their own plays.

Quips and Quiddities

Quiet and confident, the young traveler for the patent fertilizer determined to sound Farmer Filbert as to his firm's latest product.

But the farmer saw him coming beyond the turnips and knew him and his ilk of old.

"No, young fellow," he finished up, after a lengthy argument. "These new-fangled ideas don't appeal to me. Nothing can beat the old natural fertilizer."

"Good heavens, sir!" exclaimed the exasperated young patent pusher, "The day is coming when a man will be able to carry enough fertilizer for an acre of land in his watch pocket!"

"Maybe he will, my boy," allowed Filbert as he chewed a fresh straw. "And I reckon he'll be able to carry the crop in the same pocket, too."

"Johnson needn't be so mad because the teacher criticised his boy's composition. The boy will improve."

"You don't appear to understand. Johnson wrote the composition himself."

SPRING AND THE WAR

(New York Evening Post.)

The outstanding feature of the spring campaign—in all likelihood the final campaign of the war—will be a sharp change in the character of operations on the two main fronts. Hitherto the situation in Flanders and northern France has been one of deadlock, while the war in the east has been one of bold initiative and sharp vicissitudes. With the coming of spring the armies of the west will climb out of their trenches and the armies of the east will proceed to dig themselves in. It is almost certain that German strategy against the Russians will be content with holding something like the present positions. It is a defensive which may take the form of sharp attack but with no far-reaching purpose. It is doubtful whether German plans even contemplate the occupation of Warsaw. That is an operation of months. It has failed twice when undertaken from the direction of central Poland. It is not making rapid progress from the north. If one considers that six weeks have passed since the Russian defeat in east Prussia and that the czar's armies are fighting back valiantly close to the German frontier, it is plain that the Polish capital can not be taken, even if German progress continues steadily before the pressure in the west becomes so heavy as to reduce the German armies in the east to a pure defensive. The object there has been to free German soil from the invader and to bar a Russian advance upon Cracow. Both purposes are now attained. The German armies in the north, well inside the enemy's territory, will guard the Prussian frontier. The German armies south of the Vistula, in conjunction with the Austrians on the Nida, will contest the way to Cracow. The bulk of the kaiser's strength will be turned against Joffre and Kitchener.

Trench warfare in the west has been partly a matter of necessity, partly a matter of choice. There are no trenches so powerful but that they can be taken at a price. If the Germans have hesitated to pay the price it has been because of the primary consideration that no victory however decisive can assume the dimensions of the victory which Germany contemplated at the beginning of the war, namely a crushing blow that should shatter the allied armies and make organized resistance on a large scale impossible. Any success short of that might be dearly bought by losses at some other section of the battle line or on some other front. For the allies an obstinate holding policy was still more imperative. Not only did they feel themselves inferior in strength to the invading armies, but the battle line lay so comparatively close to Paris that they dared not take the chance of a formidable attack whose failure and recoil might bring the enemy almost within striking distance of the capital. The fighting of January around Soissons is an instance in point. With so many vital points exposed to attack, Calais, Amiens, Paris, Rheifs Verdun, and the line off the Meuse, no overwhelming concentration at any point could be attempted without incurring peril at some other section of the line. On both sides it is the simple fact that the length of the modern battle line has become too big a problem for the commanders, in the absence of the likelihood of a swift and crushing victory at any one point.

On the German side this situation has been accepted with fair equanimity. Berlin has repeatedly asserted that the war, on its side, will hereafter be a defensive war. Hence it is for the allies, confronted with the necessity of expelling the enemy from France and Belgium, to say when the trench warfare shall end and operations on a decisive scale begin. To the allies such a move was impossible before the advent of the new British armies.

The cost of an offensive against the German trenches is bound to be enormous. Compare for instance, the display of force necessary now for the attainment of victory with the facts at the beginning of the war. We know today from the official French summary covering the first six months of the war, that the strength of the Germans in Belgium during the first weeks of the war was greatly exaggerated. Paris is certainly under no temptation to underestimate the numbers of the enemy before whom its armies gave way so easily. Yet Paris asserts that the German forces thrown against the entire line from Brussels to Givet were about 350,000 men, instead of 750,000 that were so carefully counted by the war correspondents. This force nearly took Paris. We know now that in the battle of the Ourcq, which was the turning point of the battle of the Marne, was won by General Maunoury with no more than three crops, perhaps 130,000 men. Thus Paris was saved by an army no larger than the British force that recently secured a "limited" success around Neuve Chapelle, winning as much as a mile of ground along a front of more than two miles. The forces recently engaged in the Champagne were as large as the German armies that overran Belgium and struck at Paris; and the gains of the Champagne are to be measured by hundreds of yards. There fell around Neuve Chapelle some 30,000 men. In the Champagne the French losses are described by Berlin as amounting to 45,000. This measures the difference in cost between trench warfare and fighting in the open.

It is plain from the enormous efforts and small gains entailed by trench warfare that the allies if they are to clear the German soil of France and Belgium cannot hope to do so by pushing tactics. They must break through; they must select the vital points; and they must make the attempt at places as far removed as possible from Paris and as near as possible to the main German lines of communications. Two areas of concentrated fighting are thus indicated. For the British armies the line of advance must be between Arras and Armentieres against the German position between Lille and Douai. Success along this front would threaten the German line of communications to Cambrai, and with that the German position along the Oise and the western stretches of the Aisne. For the French, the most promising area lies between the Argonne and Verdun. Such a move would threaten the great east and west line of German communications from Metz to the region north of Rheims. For unhappy Belgium there is the consolation that if her redemption is to be effected, the decision will not be fought on her soil.

WAR AND WOMEN'S HAIR

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

"Se lo suplico a Usted, señora, comprala mi pelo." So said a poor Mexican girl pleadingly one day last spring as she passed from one back door to another in a street of American homes in El Paso, Tex. Accompanying the girl were two miserable children clinging to her ragged skirts, while behind followed an old man leading the blind woman. It was a group of refugees, hungry and homeless and the girl was making a last attempt to secure aid from her own resources.

* * *

Most of the American women shook their heads uncomprehendingly. No one encouraged explanation until at the last house on the street the old man, who had a fresh bullet wound in his leg, stumbled and fell against the steps. Then the charitable mistress came out with the tray of provisions which many Americans along the border keep in readiness for the Mexican refugees who continually come for aid. As they eagerly ate the food, the girl again repeated her petition. To emphasize it she shook out a great wealth of silky dark hair such as is rarely seen on any head.

* * *

This American woman had a smattering of Spanish, which, with the girl's action, conveyed to her the knowledge that the poor refugee desired to sell her hair to buy food for her suffering family. She knew the value that hair would have in an eastern beauty store, so she produced a small gold piece. The girl's eager eyes indicated her grateful acceptance. By motions she asked for a pair of scissors, and with her own hands severed each lock close to her head. She walked bravely off almost bald, leaving behind her a pile of tresses most women would have shed bitter tears over losing.

* * *

A few weeks later this hair reached a Chicago hair dresser. He gladly paid double what the American had paid the Mexican girl for it, notwithstanding the fact that last year's sale of hair dressing left little or no demand for false hair. During the next few weeks several other Mexican women had sold their hair in the same way. It is possible that the trade in Mexican hair may achieve commercial importance at some future time, although as yet it has been confined to a few private individuals. Most of the Mexican refugees who have crossed the border in quest of aid are of the lower class with a mixture of Indian blood in their veins. This is apt to render their hair too coarse to be of great value. It is also dark, while light hair is in greatest demand.

The supply of high-grade human hair is never equal to the demand, but it was announced at the Philadelphia Fashion show, last month, that in America the market might shortly be better supplied than usual as a result of the European war. It is predicted that within a few months American women will be gratifying their vanity by the purchase of hair which the European women have sold to secure money for their suffering families, just as the Mexican girl did. Crises which have induced women to sell their hair have occurred in many periods of the world's history.

* * *

A German hair dresser of New York recently received the luxuriant tresses of twenty-five German women of good family in a single village, who desired to give the value of their hair as a contribution to their country's war fund. In England several women have already sacrificed their hair for the same purpose, and a large number of others have announced their willingness to do so. Belgian women are eagerly offering their hair for sale in both the London and the Paris markets. It is to the American women that most of this sacrificed hair will come.

* * *

The greatest difficulty the hair dresser experiences is in securing long hair of the fined blonde tints. Formerly the French convents supplied much of this, because every novitiate was shorn of her locks before her head was covered with the final black veil. The closing of the convents banished this source from France and no real substitute has been secured. Other convents have supplied hair in small quantities and hair buyers always make peredic trips through the peasant districts of northern Europe and some parts of Ireland. The supply has been falling off lately, and that the reports of any additions to it are received eagerly. As all the hair goods of Europe have been practically shut off because of the war, it is predicted that the American trade in this particular article will shortly reach its zenith.

* * *

Because the supply of good human hair is so scarce, the cheaper grades of artificial or false hair used by women are manufactured from coarse hair imported from China and from several substitutes which are hardly not hair at all. One of these is a fibre from a South American tree called "yunio." It has a thin inside bark, which readily separates into fibres of a reddish brown tint, bearing some semblance to human hair. They are not durable, however, and are only used in cheap articles, such as "rats" and "switches," found in the 10-cent stores. Hemp is also used for these articles, and wool, when submitted to a straightening process, is used for a still better grade of goods.

* * *

Manufacturing human hair into the articles added to the feminine coiffure is an elaborate process. It will be facilitated in the future by several machines recently invented in this country. The hair is first washed, dried and sterilized. It is then sorted for length by a series of carding machine, after which the different shades must be separated. This is most important of all, because several shades may be taken from the same head but the woman who pays a high price for a switch wants it to be absolutely uniform in shade.

* * *

The longest hair, which can be woven into the best switches for braiding, is most valuable, although shade and quality are also considered. Naturally curly hair may bring a slightly higher price than straight, but the demand for straight hair of good quality is always strong. The mechanical devices for curling hair are so much improved as to almost rival nature. Light hair in undesirable shades may be dyed. Hair dyes have been greatly improved and are now almost permanent, but natural shades are always given preference if they are known. Short hair is made up into cheap switches, puffs, transformations and the other articles included in the feminine hair arrangement.

* * *

It is rather odd to note that heads must be made to fit the hats rather than hats to fit the heads, as might be supposed. When the large hats were in vogue it was quite usual for the milliner to send a customer to a hair dresser for another set of puffs, a switch or a coronet braid or some other piece of artificial hair, which would enlarge the apparent size of the head. This year the woman wearing the small hat has had difficulty in stowing away the hair nature has really bestowed upon her.

LABORER AND ARTIST

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

YOU can do work in one of two ways, as a laborer or as an artist.

To work as a laborer is hard. It dulls the brain, wears out the body, and embitters the soul.

To work as an artist sharpens the mind, exhilarates the body, and refreshes the soul.

It is well to pay the laborer good wages, to give him short hours, to protect him by law, and to encourage him by kindness; but there is something better—it is to do away with labor altogether.

And this is to be done not by starving laborers, exiling them, nor killing them; but by changing them into artists.

To accomplish this is the task of civilization.

The way to redeem labor is to change it to craftsmanship.

The laborer is moved by wages; the craftsman by love for and pride in his work.

Whatever a man has to do he can do as an artist. The barber shaves you best who finds joy in performing the operation neatly and skillfully. The carpenter who is only trying to get his money does slovenly work; when he pleases himself by making a thing useful and beautiful he pleases the customer.

There are two kinds of grocers, those who want only your money and those whose aim is to keep the best possible store.

So you can tell the difference between the craftsman and the laborer in any person, in the paperhanger, house painter, plumber, bootblack, architect, lawyer, preacher, servant girl or senator.

It is the delight in producing, in creating, in rendering any service to mankind by your brain or hands that takes the curse from labor.

Life itself is a task. You can labor at it, break your heart and your back, groan and sweat and get the everlasting mulligrubs; or you can make each day's doing as beautiful, well-rounded, and satisfying as a statue or a picture.

Art is not confined to paintings, porcelains, tapestries, and other luxuries; it applies as well to the necessities. A woman can make an art of the care of her children, of her housekeeping, of her dinners, of her social duties, and find a pleasure in these things such as Raphael found in drawing his Madonnas.

Whoever has learned the secret of craftsmanship has shifted the load of labor from his back.

Whoever has caught the spirit of the artist has saved his life.

The progress of invention, of education, and of cooperation means that by and by all stupid, humdrum, and merely routine labor shall be done by machinery, and that human beings shall exert themselves only in craftsmanship and artistry. That will be the Golden Age.

PLAN TO EXTEND DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOLS

Baptist Ministers Hear National Director Boville Discuss the Work

Plans for a great extension of the Atlanta branch of the Daily Vacation Bible School association were begun Monday morning at the meeting of the Baptist Ministers' association, following an address by National Director Robert G. Boville, of New York.

Rev. Mr. Boville praised the work of Atlanta preachers and laymen in developing these schools; the ministers' association heartily indorsed the Vacation Bible School association, and Dr. John E. White and Rev L. E. Barton were appointed a committee to promote the movement in all the churches of all denominations in Atlanta.

Rev. G. R. Buford, southern director of the Bible schools, said that 2,000 pupils were enrolled in Atlanta last summer, with seventy teachers, and that he hoped this number would double during the coming summer. Following the meeting Monday, active steps will be taken to enlarge the school and get new churches to enlist in the work.

Rev. G. R. Buford is southern director of the association; the southern managers are Dr. Marion McH. Hull, Dr. C. R. Wilmer, Dr. John E. White, Rev. W. C. Shaeffer, Judge W. W. Thrasher, Robert B. McCord, Philip Weltner, Harry H. Hallman, J. Sprole Lyons, Jr., Rev. H. H. Harris.

John J. Eagan and Dr. Marion McH. Hull are national vice presidents. Russell Colgate, of New York, is president.

PATIENTS TESTIFY FOR CHINESE HERB DOCTOR

Several Witnesses Swear to Efficacy of Dr. T. Z. Young's Medicine

Dr. T. Y. Young, the Chinese herb doctor or agent, as he characterized himself, took the stand Monday at his trial in the federal court on a charge of fraudulent use of the mails. Following his testimony, an array of grateful patients gave testimonials as to the benefits they have received from the Chinese herbs Young dispensed.

Lee Hand, a laundryman, acted as interpreter, although Young spoke some English himself and one of his patients said the Chinaman at his office spoke English.

Young admitted he had never registered in Fulton county as a doctor, but said it wasn't necessary, as he was really nothing but an agent. In reply to questions of Assistant District Attorney Henley as to whether medicine was necessary for a sick man, he said sometimes it was.

E. F. Bond, of Greenberg & Bond, undertakers, testified that Young, with his medicine, had cured him of an obstinate case of indigestion. Nick Nalangos, another witness, said Young had cured him of a pain in his stomach.

A. H. Horner, a stereotyper, and Young's amanuensis, who said his business was such that he had to life several thousand pounds a day, said he had been cured of a weak back.

He testified as to having written some of the letters Young sent to his patients. He said Young spoke English, a point that the government seemed to lay stress on in view of the fact hat Young testified through an interpreter.

NAVAL COMMANDER AND THREE SAILORS DROWNED

Lieut. Bryecker, of Ocorpion, and Others, Sink With Rowboat

(By Associated Press.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, via Berlin and London, March 22.—Lieutenant Commander William F. Bryecker, of United States converted yacht Scorpion and three sailors named Ford, Dowell and Leverings, were drowned on the night of March 20 while attempting to reach their vessel with a rowboat. The Scorpion was anchored in the Bosphorus off Constantinople near the Dolmabagheheh palace. The rowboat was swamped in a heavy sea thrown up by a south gale. Lieutenant Herbert S. Babitt and one sailor, also in the boat, were saved.

Lieutenant Commander Bryecker arrived at Constantinople March 16 to succeed Lieutenant Commander Edward McCauley, Jr., in command of the Scorpion.

The Scorpion was purchased for the navy in 1896. It has a displacement of 850 tons and has been stationed at Constantinople for some time.

Lieutenant Commander Bricker, who formerly was naval attache at the American embassy at Paris, left that city February 28 for Constantinople to assume command of the Scorpion. He was born January 18, 1879, in Pennsylvania and appointed to the naval academy from that state in 1896.

Commander Bryecker Well Known in Washington

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Great regret was expressed by naval officers over the death of Lieutenant Commander Bryecker, who was well known here. Seaman Irven Dowell was from Annapalis Md. Charles Ford's home was in Oxford, Miss. Naval records here show no sailor named Leverings.

No official advices on the accident have been received by the navy department.

Ambassador Morgenthau reported Lieutenant Commander Bricker's body was recovered, but the others had not been found. The message adds that Commander Bricker had dined on shore with the secretary of the embassy, Hoffman Philip, and was returning to the Scorpion about 11 o'clock. A severe Levanter had come up and the captain was anxious about the security of the ship's moorings. Near the ship the small boat foundered, only Lieutenant Babbitt and one man of the party being saved.

Commander Bricker's funeral will take place from the embassy at Constantinople Tuesday. His home was in Pennsylvania.

MYSTERY IN MURER OF REYNOLDS GROCERYMAN

Henry W. James Found With Head Split Open With an Axe

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

REYNOLDS, Ga., March 22.—Henry W. James, 25 years old, a prominent groceryman, was found murdered in his room at the home of Clyde Hill, a druggist, here at midnight last night.

D. Hendrix James, a roommate, discovered the body. James' head had been split open with an axe.

As the pockets of the dead man was $45 and a pistol. The coroner's jury has been unable to find a motive for the crime. Private detectives are at work on the case.

BUSINESS MEN VOTE TO HEAR DR. CHAPMAN

By a rising response about 100 men gathered in the Kimball ballroom at noon Monday voted to request Dr. Wilbur Chapman to hold another business men's meeting there Thursday.

Dr. Chapman had expressed doubt as to the advisability of another meeting, but on Dr. Marion McH. Hull putting the motion after the evangelist left the hall, the response was unanimous in favor of the meeting Thursday. Dr. Chapman's address Monday consumed thirteen minutes. He spoke on the great good of daily reading the Bible.

SERVICE INCREASED ON TWO STREET CAR LINES

Double Truck "Paye" Cars Put on McDaniel and Ponce de Leon Routes

Increased service was inaugurated on the Ponce de Leon and McDaniel street trolley lines Monday morning when the Georgia Railway and Power company linked those lines together in one through route and installed double-truck "paye" cars on the run. The schedule will remain at 10 minutes on the Ponce de Leon end and at 20 minutes on the McDaniel street end. The through cars will pass Five Points at five minutes after the hour, 25 after and 45 after, the crosstown route being over the Whitehall street viaduct along Peachtree and Whitehall. The cars running on the Ponce de Leon end only will enter Five Points from Broad street and Marietta, and leave at 15 minutes after the hour, 35 after, and 55 after.

The West Fair line, formerly a part of the Ponce de Leon route, is linked by the new arrangement with the Irwin street line, and through cars on that route will pass Five Points on the hour, 20 after and 40 after.

The increase in service on the Ponce de Leon and McDaniel street lines was given by the company of its own volition, without even a petition from its patrons. The rearrangement of routes was necessitated by the physical impossibility of operating "paye" cars along certain curves and grades on the West Fair line. The Ponce de Leon line is the only one in Atlanta's whole system that has shown growth in traffic every month since the war depression became evident last fall.

Y. W. C. A. WILL PRESENT PLAY AT ATLANTA APRIL 5

Fairy Story, 'Will-o'the-Wisp,' Will Be Presented Entirely in Pantomime

Great and enthusiastic interest is being shown in the "Will o'the Wisp," the beautiful fairy-tale play that is to be presented at the Atlanta theater on Monday, April 5, by the gymnasium classes of the Y. W. C. A.

The story of the play is adapted from an old Hungarian fairy tale and is to be given entirely in pantomime. No word will be spoken on the stage from start to finish. The most beautiful music has been carefully selected and adapted and will furnish wierd, uncanny, or bright, spritely accompaniment, as the story demands.

Much of the story will be portrayed through dances, the folk dances of the peasants; the wild, free movements of the gypsies; the character dances of the soldiers, courtiers and court guests; and the descriptive dances of the fairies and forest spirits. The grouping and posing will be the most artistic and effective among stage settings that will be elaborate but thoroughly faithful to detail.

The leading parts will be taken by Miss Lawton and Mrs. Hamilton Block, Mrs. Leo Sherad and Miss Betzner. There will be many others in the play, the entire cast to include about two hundred.

Miss Era Betzner, the physical director of the Y. W. C. A., has adapted and arranged the play and is personally directing rehearsals. She has had wide experience in this kind of work, having staged plays and pageants in Canada and the North with as many as two thousand people in a single cast. Her work is notably artistic and original.

WILSON WILL NOT ALTER POLICY TOWARD MEXICO

No Government, Not Result of Orderly Elections, Will Be Recognized

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Recent events in Mexico have not changed President Wilson's determination not to recognize any government there which is not the result of orderly elections.

Various reports of efforts to induce the United States to recognize General Villa were met at the White House today with the statement that the president's policy was unchanged and that he had no intention of departing from it.

GIRL CAPTURES ONE OF FIVE SMALL BURGLARS

Miss Willie Day, 145 Spring, Not Appalled by Swarm of Gas Meter Thieves.

Five burglars, young but exceedingly spry, are an appalling spectacle to greet one lady and a very small dog on a Sunday morning, but Miss Willie Day thinks she proved equal to the occasion when she grabbed one by the nape of his neck and held him until a policeman arrived.

Miss Day arose at 9 a. m. Sunday at her home, 145 Spring street, and with Toodles, a pet poodle, opened the front door of her apartment to get the morning paper. As she peered out she came face to face with five newsboys engaged in rifling the gas meter in a closet beneath the stairs.

Toodles barked and the boys scattered, bumping into Miss Day and the dog in a wild tangle of arms and legs. Miss Day put out one hand, touched a wriggling ear and held on. Four pairs of heels disappeared around the corner, but Will Clark, a fourteen-year-old and husky darky, was kept prisoner and Monday was at the juvenile home.

Miss Day says the youngsters cleaned out the meter of all the cash that was in it.

ATLANTIANS WILL NAME BELGIAN RELIEF MOVIE

Would you like to name an movie play? You have the opportunity. Dr. F. E. May, secretary of the Belgium Relief committee in Georgia, and Al Bartlett are co-operating in filming a drama to help the fund. The scenes are taken in Atlanta, and the best title submitted by an Atlanta person will be used.

Read this synopsis and send your choice for title to 217 Rhodes building. The scenario begins with a happy Belgium home, father mother and sweethearts, Jeanne and Louis. War breaks out, father and Louis are enlisted, the home suffers. The scene changes to America, Dr. May and his daughter selling flags, loading a relief ship for Belgium. Meantime the father has been killed in Belgium, Jeanne has become a nurse, the mother and little one starving. The story reaches a climax when Dr. May and his daughter arrive in Belgium, feed the family with the supplies from America and reunite Jeanne and Louis.

Will Increase Capital

Secretary of State Cook Monday allowed an amendment to the charter of the Citizens' Bank of Metter, Metter, Candler county, which amendment authorizes the bank to increase its capital stock from $25,000 to $50,000.

ZEPPELIN RAID ON PARIS SCARES WOMAN TO DEATH

Little Damage Done Despite Fact Bombs Dropped Were Incendiary

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, March 22.—While no one was killed directly by the Zeppelin bombs which were dropped in Paris and its environs early yesterday, they resulted in one death—that of Mme. Charles Peeson, who lived in the Rue des Dames. The aged woman was so frightened by the explosion of a bomb in that street that she died soon afterward.

After Public Prosecutor Lescouvé and his staff had visited all the places where bombs exploded and examined several witnesses he drew up a report to which unbiased reports made of Zeppelin airship raids upon the city.

A city analyst who spent the day collecting bombs which did not explode and fragments of those which did, took them to his laboratory for a chemical analysis. From a cursory examination he found that most of the missiles dropped were incendiary, containing a mixture of phosphorus, tar and benzine, provided with a lighting contrivance consisting of a wick soaked in petroleum.

Today We Received Three Hundred New Suits

That, With What We Had, Set Our Ready-to-Wear Section at the Very Height of Preparedness for the Easter Busy-ness

Now then for the Easter suit!

At the time the (psychological moment we might call it) when the greatest demands of the season will be made upon us to supply the women of Atlanta with suits of smart, correct styles, we can announce with all sincerity that we have brought the displays to their highest point.

It is all a part of the service that we strive to render---to secure styles that women want when they want them; let the effort be what it will. And this season it has required exceptional effort, it has not been easy to get the styles most desired.

But we have succeeded and here are the suits that prove it.

The Belted Coats, the Severely Tailored Coats, the Wide Flaring Skirts and Pleated Skirts. Plenty of the Favored Navy Blues and English Checks

These are the general points---they differ, they are attractive in hundreds of individual ways, one woman will like the way this belt is tucked up under the arms, another will like the way the belt marks severely the waist line.

The greatness of the stocks is calculated to allow a woman that individuality of choice that she most likes but does not always find.

Prices Go Gradually From $19.50 to $50. If Any Special Values Were to Be Mentioned They Would Be Suits at $25 to $35, For Misses, and for Women up to size 46.

Crackers Leave for Macon to Play Two Games With the Boston Braves

Crackers Off For Two Games With the Braves

Enshrouded in Mackinaws, Sweaters and Overcoats Eighteen Chilled Athletes Left for Macon This Morning--Pearson, Allen and William to Pitch in First

Despite the fact that the chilling blasts swirling through the streets of the city this morning savored more of skating, skiing, and sleighing than of baseball and other sports of the good old summer time, Manager Smith loaded eighteen of his Crackers on board a train for Macon and departed for the citadel of Bibb, there to engage the Boston Braves in a brace of ball games, scheduled for this afternoon and tomorrow. Predominating in the visible wearing apparel of the athletes were mackinaws and heavy sweaters.

The local chieftain is earnestly hoping that the weather will do some kind of a swift back-action flip before time for the game, and if not today, that at least by tomorrow, the situation will have moderated considerably. Weather of this type is not conducive to baseball, and it even affords ample possibilities for some of the boys to develop ailments in their flinging arms that will abide with them until well into the summer and possibly throughout the season.

According to plans formulated in advance, three hurlers will divide time in each of the games with the Braves. Pearson, Allen and Williams are slated for today's foray, with the ex-Jacksonville slabber opening the ball. "Lefty" Allen will handle the middle section, with Williams closing the sketch. And each time a shift is made on the fling ing end of the battery combination, a new helper will take up the duties back of the willow. Jenkins, Nelderkorn and Rumler are expected to take three innings apiece in each battle.

The Crackers are leaving with the avowed intention of making the going interesting for the mundane champions. Last season the two clubs met in several clashes here and in Dixie, and the Crackers took a fair share of victories. The fact that Manager Stallings led his charges through a strenuous season to a league victory and later a clean sweep over the hitherto invincible Athletics, will not worry Smith's boys to any appreciable extent. They are ready to shoot over their best, and believe that it will be good enough to worry the country's foremost.

Tuesday night the Crackers return here to open the real exhibition season at Ponce de Leon on Wednesday, and Stinson's Macon Sally leaguers will offer the opposition. On Friday the Braves pay a return call for two games. Pat Moran's Phillies drop off here to show on Monday and Tuesday of next week. Then follows one open date, after which the Louisville Colonels will be guests of the Crackers for a couple of days. On Saturday next the Braves clash again with the locals. The final week of the exhibition season will bring here the Pittsburg Pirates and the Havana Reds, a crack Cuban team which is now touring the States.

In the two games with the Braves today and tomorrow, Manager Smith will doubtless work a few shifts in his infield. Waldron and Tulley will alternate at the third corner, and Potts and Manning will divide time at second. Other than these and battery shifts the regulars will hold their jobs. Following is the prospective line-up and batting order for today's game.

Havana Reds Defeat Phillies

TAMPA, Fla., March 22.—Doubles by Gutierrez, Ogarson and Pitcher Gonzales and a single by Rodriguez in the second inning, gave the Havana Reds three runs, a lead which the Philadelphia Nationals were unable to overcome in a fast game played at Fort Dade, a government reservation, Sunday afternoon. Gonzales was strong in the pitches and allowed only five hits for two runs.

DIANA DILLPICKLES (THE GIRL OF MYSTERY) IN HER HOT SKETCH

The Sportlight

BY GRANTLAND RICE

THE UNAFRAID.

Only the lion kings the land
Who is whelped in the desert's fire;
Only the stallion leads the band
With a hoof unmarked in mire;
The peak for the eagle to preen and to dream—
Only the game fish swims up stream.

Only the ocean carries to sail
That foams to the blizzard's breath;
The silent seas that steep and quail
Are secrets with the curse of death.
The sky for the rocket to glow and to gleam—
Only the game fish swims up stream.

Only the stars are suns which burn
By the heat of their own heart's light;
The million worlds which round them turn
Float dead in a nebulous night;
The meteor's burst is its funeral beam;
Only the game fish swims up stream.

Only the man is made for fame,
To hold his place in the sun—
Whose soul, by fate, is dipt in flame
And winged with the winners who run;
Fame for the faithful—death for the dead—
The peak and the star for the Unafraid.

—JOHN TROTWOOD MOORE.

There are two lines, among others, in this excellent verse of Colonel John Trotwood Moore's, which made a deep appeal to George Stallings as they are in line with the method he uses in driving and schooling his ball club.

One is—"Only the game fish swims up stream;"

The other—"The peak and the star for the Unafraid."

CLASSED AS THE UNAFRAID.

Stallings and Evers in this respect are almost exactly alike. Both are great believers in supressing a ball club with the fact that if it is willing to fight, to fight hard and fight all the time, it can never be stopped, but can beat another club even better in many other ways.

The Braves might be classed as the Unafraid. Last summer they had no semblance of fear of the Giants when the latter were in first place. And later, despite the great machine they were meeting, they had no fear of the Mackmen in any way.

They counted no cost, but drove on to glory or the smash-up, and all through this spring Stallings has been working upon the development of this same spirit. Only he had no great work to do this time—for he had already done his job last year, and he was lucky to have the kind of a ball club that refused to loaf after reaching the top.

THE OLD RIVALRY.

The bitter rivalry of the old days that once rested between the Giants and Cubs will be established between the Giants and Braves this year. Word comes from Marlin that McGraw and his club will make a terrific drive at the Champs, and the Braves are looking for a battle here that will surpass anything the game has seen in the National league the old Cugs faded out.

"They curled up when we hit them last season," said one member of the Brave party, referring to the Giants, "but we are looking for a different angle this year. And we know how much Lobert and Perritt will help that bunch. It will be some battle when we get together, but I think we've taken their place as the club in front for some time to come."

SAYINGC FROM THE BRAVES' CAMP.

"If you don't quit the other guy will, sooner or later."

"It's tough to beat a club that never knows when it is whipped."

"The ball club that hustles every inning doesn't need a lot else."

"A bad start is a small part of the race to a game ball club."

Word comes from Florida that the Greatzim is slamming the ball with keener eclat than ever before. If Heinie decides to play a few games with his club this season he will be quite a help, but ability to slam the ball is no great aid after an impassioned outburst of oratory has chased said slammer to the clubhouse for a three-day rest.

FIGHT FAN.

BUSINESS OF MAKING MENTION.

Dear Sir: I see where most of the boxing writers say that Willard has no chance against Johnson. I wish you would make mention of the fact that before they fought Corbett had no chance against Sullivan; Fitzsimmons had no chance against Corbett, and Jeffries had no chance against Fitzsimmons." Also that Wolgast had no chance against Nelson. The fighting game is full of champions who never had a chance—until they won.

FIGHT FAN.

SPRING HARBINGER.

"Once upon a midnight dreary"—
This is all I'll grab from Poe—
While I pondered somewhat weary
In my Harlem bungalow;
While I sat there, bent or broken,
Sighing for a can of beer,
There arrived a cherished token
Telling me that spring was here.

For there came in an epistle
And while gazing on the scrawl,
I could hear the blue bird whistle
And the crash of bat and ball;
For the message was a breeder
Of a May breeze through the flat—
To oblige a Constant Reader,
Publish "Casey at the Bat."

LUCKY FOR BOSTON.

While Boston lost the hockey title it is just as well. One more cup on her trophy shelf and there would have been a grand crash, as it was already overweighted and sagging in the middle.

"It's a queer fact," says an exchange, "but many of the star ball players of the country are pulling for Germany to win." Queer? When the box scores are replete with Messrs. Wagner, Schulte, Maisel, Rudolph, Schmidt, Tesreau, Hartzell, and some forty or ninety more of the same patronymic mould?

"Life," says an old adage, "isn't a matter of holding a good hand, but of playing a poor hand well." But the champion as a rule is the citizen who does both. He needs the luck to hold the good hand and the ability to play this to the limit.

Red Smith may have a warped ankle, but there is nothing warped about his sprightly and gleaming batting eye. Not so as any spring pitchers have been able to observe just at this date.

"The records," says a contemporary, "show that the Magee-Cravath combination was a more deadly batting pair than the Cobb-Crawford team." Magee and Cravath are topliners in the Realm of Swat, but this is one time we'll hurdle the records and take a chance the other way.

Fultz Seeks to Settle Strife

President of Ball Players Fraternity Proposes Plan to Arbitrate Existing Diamond Squabbles

NEW YORK, March 22.—With a view to settling differences between organized baseball and the Federals, David L. Fultz, president of the Baseball Players' Fraternity, has suggested that a board of arbitrators be appointed by the warring factions. His idea is that such a board should settle territorial rights as well as the rights to players.

In addition, the board would outline broad principles for the future government of baseball and assist in forming a governing body of representatives of the National, American, Federal and minor leagues, the players and the public, acting through the Baseball Writers' association.

All three of the warring leagues are well backed and could go on fighting indefinitely, says Fultz, but in the minor leagues "conditions are so serious that many clubs will this year be unable to pay expenses. The situation has been brought about almost entirely by the war with the Federal league and the unfortunate part is that those who are the most vitally injured have done nothing to cause the war and are powerless to bring it to a conclusion."

Former Giant Killer Is Dying

WILLIAMSBURG, Pa., March 22.—Lew Richie, ex-giant killer and former member of the Kansas City Blues, has played his last game of baseball. The twirler is reported to be slowly sinking at his home in Williamsburg, Pa. Tuberculosis is the cause. According to the attending physicians Richie has a fighting chance to pull through, and his friends declare his fighting abilities will enable him to win out over the white plague. However, he will be too weak to continue his baseball career.

Richie is one of baseball's famous characters. He has seen the game from cellar to garret. He started his baseball career in the bushes around Philadelphia. His great wing soon carried him to the majors. The year 1911 was Richie's greatest year on the diamond and the one in which he earned the title of "Giant Killer." Lew was twirling for the Cubs and displayed marvelous ability to beat New York every time he started against that team. All Richie had to do was to toe the slab and the Giants were beaten. After that year Richie began to fade, and in 1913 was sent to Kansas City in a deal for Jim Vaughn.

Sailing The News

BY INNIS BROWN

With the time for beginning active hostilities less than a month away, practically all of the boys who were being classed as holdouts on Southern league club managers a few weeks ago have fallen into line. "Mary" Calhoun signed up with the Gulls a few days since, "Lefty" Townsend has yet to file his contract with the Gulf secretary, but he is expected to line up shortly. Bill Schwartz has arbitrated things with all of his players save Bert King and Heine Berger. "Moose" McCormick, Billy Smith, Bris Lord, Carlton Molesworth and others have about completed the job of taming the refractory spirits on their clubs.

It was rather to be expected that the boys would line up sooner or later, and those who are now holding out would do well to scrutinize the situation carefully, provided they expect to continue playing the game for a livelihood. No doubt in many cases cuts in salaries have been wide and deep, but the outlook on baseball generally the country over is not such as to warrant a player in taking his chances of grabbing a berth on some club other than the one to which he is supposed to belong, along about the time the season opens. There are going to be numbers of good players sent back from the majors within the next few weeks and competition is sure to be keen aplenty.

Atlanta fans by the scores are asking why it was that the Crackers did not obtain from the St. Louis Browns, with whom they have established a working agreement, Third Baseman Edson Hemingway and Outfielder Yale Sloan, who played with the Yoles last season, and who have joined the ranks of the Birmingham Barons. The answer is this: The Barons bought these two men outright. The Crackers could have done the same, but with the assurance from Rickey that he had others equally as good, whom he was willing to farm for a season, Manager Smith was willing to take a chance on the judgment and word of the Brown's boss.

Had the Crackers purchased Hemingway and Sloan outright, they would have been forced to invest quite a neat sum in their contracts. Furthermore, if Rickey thinks enough of others of his youngsters to keep a string on them, and put them out under option, it stands to reason that he considers them more promising prospects than he does players whom he is selling outright. He has sent down Bowden, Jenkins and Rumler subject to recall, and it is practically certain that this trio will go back at the end of the season. Furthermore Rickey is ready and willing to send down another outfielder, and an infielder, as soon as he begins cutting down his squad, if Manager Smith figures that he needs them at that time.

A short time since, some of the fight promoters in Havana sent out a statement among other things that residents of the Cuban capital are crazy about boxing. And when you read of some of the stuff that is being pulled there, you stop to wonder why any limitation was imposed on the general statement that they are crazy. For instance, a few nights since one promoter had the nerve to stage a scrap between Battling Nelson and Stewart Donnelly.

Fans hereabouts remember "Stew." Claiming to hail from Indianapolis, Donnelly blew in here about a year ago, and was matched with Jimmy Perry. Jimmy mauled him about the ring for several rounds, and finally dropped him for the count. If Donnelly is a prize fighter, Harry Grizzard is eligible for a place in the United States senate.

Cue Tournament Ends This Week

CHICAGO, March 22.—Billiard players competing in the world's championship three-cushion tournament started on the final sixteen games of the sixty-six game schedule today. The tournament will end on Thursday night.

William Huey, of Chicago, who is leading the tournament with seven successive victories, was paired with Charles Ellis, of Cleveland, in today's play. The other matches brought together August Kieckhefer, of Milwaukee, and John Hallman, of Minneapolis, George Moore, of New York city, and Joseph Capron, of St. Paul, and John Daly, of New York city, and Lloyd Jevne, of Salt Lake City.

Huey appears to have the special prize for high run already won as experts figure that his high mark of thirteen will not be beaten.

Chicago Bowlers Lead in Doubles

COTTON MADE NEW HIGH RECORD FOR THE SEASON

Market in New York Closed 10 to 17 Points Higher Than Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 22.—Cotton showed renewed strength early today and afternoon opening steady at an advance of 7 to 8 points active months sold about 9 to 10 points net higher, making new high records for the season on July and later deliveries. There seemed to be some further covering by local traders, who had anticipated that Saturday's ginning figures would indicate even a large crop than that actually reported, while there seemed to be very few sellers around the ring, and some scattering demand was probably promoted by talk that low temperatures in the southwest might delay the new crop start.

There was enough realizing to cause some irregularity during the morning, but prices held generally firm on continued investment buying and scattered covering with active months selling about 10 to 14 points net higher and with January contracts crossing the 10-cent level. There was talk of better prospects for an early end of the war, and offerings seemed pretty well limited to profit-taking.

Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands 9.15; sales 2,400 bales.

The market continued firm during the middle of the afternoon with prices about 11 to 16 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, March 22.—Cotton advanced 6 to 10 points in the early trading today on favorable cables and a resumption of the general buying which featured the market at the end of last week. The extremely cold weather in south Texas also was a stimulating feature.

Outside buying was a feature of the morning and the ring found difficulty in supplying the demand. In the trading up to noon prices went 9 to 15 points up net.

In the afternoon the market was quiet but it was strong and the full advance was well maintained, the ring finding difficulty in meeting the moderate demand which came in.

HAYWARD & CLARK'S COTTON LETTER

NEW ORLEANS, March 22.—There were no changes of consequence in the political situation over Sunday.

A press report from Denver, Colorado, says that a deal for 32,000 bales of cotton has been closed by a local man with the Lindlock company of Gothernburg, Sweden. Cotton to be shipped as soon as possible from New Orleans. All insurance covered by buyers and payment by cash here.

Liverpool showed the full advance due and quotes spots 8 points higher, sales 8,000.

Our market opened about 4 points higher and ruled steady without pressure although the advance is rather a surprise and opinion is greatly divided as to its justice. The disposition is to await further development and definite results of politics on spots and shipping. New York news, however, suggests that the bull element is active and in control of the market and may have further success.

The map shows fair weather over nearly all of the entire belt. Killing frost to the coast from Georgia west; killing in the Atlantic states nearly to the coast. Indications are for generally fair and warmer weather.

A Texas traveler wired from Hillsboro that freezing weather throughout the state had caused damage to corn and was delaying the planting of cotton.

Another Texas wire said good spot demand everywhere.

On the other hand it is believed that the sudden freeze together with a severe winter, has destroyed much insect life.

London announced that the Adriatic sea is closed by blockade for commerce to and from Austria.

The contract market became more active as the session progressed and some new crop positions in New York passed the high mark. Buying by Wall street and the west supplied the push, while selling comes principally from spot interests.

The local spot market is quiet, but firm. Demand a little better, holders asking higher on account of the advance in futures.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET WAS ACTIVE AND STRONG

Bethlehem Steel, New Haven, General Motors, Union Pacific and Rubber Led

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 22.—Specialtiess were again the centtral figure at the outset of this week's operations on the stock exchange. Bethlehem Steel once more overshadowed all other issues, selling up to 69¾, a gain of 3⅜ from last Saturday's close and a new high record price. Motor shares came next in prominence, with gains of 1 to over 3 points. Local tractions and American Smelting and National Lead resumed their activity at substantial advances. The so-called leaders or former speculative favorites were comparatively backward.

Further bidding up of specialties marked the mid-session, Bethlehem Steel advancing to 72. Rubber shares also rose substantially. Standard stocks continued to show hesitation, with renewed pressure against Reading.

Bonds were irregular.

Reading's continued weakness was the feature of the final hour, losing over a point, while obscure specialties were advanced.

The closing was strong.

CRUICKSHANK CIGAR STORE ROBBED OF $60 IN CASH

Sixty dollars in cash was obtained by burglars who jimmied open the door of the Cruickshank cigar store, 101 Whitehall street, early Monday morning. Two hundred and ninety dollars, hidden in a cigar box, was overlooked.

E. T. Fagan, manager of the store, placed the receipts of Saturday in two cigar boxes Saturday night and put these boxes in the humidor. The burglar or burglars saw him do this, thinks Mr. Cruickshank, by looking through the glass windows. The burglars went straight to the humidor and jimmied it open; the safe, which stood close by, was empty, and the robbers did not attempt to open it. After removing sixty dollars from one cigar box, the intruders did not look into the other box that contained $290.

Patrolman Rivers discovered the robbery at 3:30 o'clock Monday morning. Detectives are working on the case.

Early Sunday morning the home of former Alderman J. R. Nutting, 82 East Merritts avenue, was burglarized. A Jewelry box containing valuable jewels was stolen. The residence of C. F. Schepport, 118 Oakland avenue, was also reported robbed.

HEAVY SALES DEPRESSED WHEAT IN THE AFTERNOON

Wheat Closed 1 5-8 to 3 1-2 Cents Down--Corn, Oats, Pork and Sides Heavy

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, March 22.—Decreasing Liverpool stocks tended today to lift wheat here. The opening, ¼c lower to 1⅛c higher, was followed by a material advance, the nby a moderate setback.

News of the fall of Przemysl led to a quick wheat decline. The close was heavy at a loss of 1¼c to 3½c net.

Unfavorable weather gave some strength to corn. Opening a shade to ⅛@¼c lower, prices rose well above Saturday night's level.

Wheat weakness pulled corn down, and it closed unsettled, ⅝c to ¾c under Saturday night.

Oats hardened on report of delayed seeding. Provisions went sharply down grade.

GRAIN MARKET OPINIONS

Chapin & Co.: The big stocks and the disappointing cash demand continue to exercise a depressing influence in corn.

Ware & Leland: Action of the market suggests technical conditions at this level are sound.

Bartlett, Frazier & Co.: The inherent strength of the cash position seems to remain as great as ever. Prefer the long side of corn on weak spots. Believe that oats have had break enough.

Lamson Bros.: Quick breaks may result from changes in the political situation but the end of the war is probably a long way off and its effect is certain to be felt in foreign requirements.

Walter Fitch: Until there is definite signs of a material change in the foreign situation, declines in wheat are likely to prove temporary.

Harris, Winthrop & Co.: Buy on setbacks.

EASTER HOLIDAY ANNOUNCEMENT

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 22.—Members of the New York coffee exchange voted today to close the exchange for three days—from Thursday to Monday—for the Easter holidays.

INTERESTING NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE MARKETS

Weather Reports, Crop Advices, Expert Opinion and Newspaper Comment

COTTON GOSSIP

11 a. m. bids in New York were as follows: May, 9.06; July, 9.36; October, 9.68; January, 9.96.

10 a. m. bids in New Orleans were, May, 8:80; July, 9.04; October, 9.38; January, 9.64.

New Orleans spot market quiet, but firm, little better demand. Holders asking higher on account of advance in futures.

One share of New Orleans cotton exchange stock just sold at $2,050, last sale $1,950.

Forecast:

Tennessee: Unsettled tonight and Tuesday, probably rain or snow; warmer tonight west portion.

Kentucky: Unsettled tonight and Tuesday, slightly warmer tonight west portion.

Virginia: Unsettled tonight south portion, probably local snows or rain, fair north portion, warmer extreme west portion, Tuesday partly cloudy, gentle to moderate shifting winds.

Georgia: Fair tonight, warmer northwest portion; Tuesday increasing cloudiness and warmer; moderate west winds becoming variable.

Alabama and Mississippi: Partly cloudy and warmer tonight; Tuesday unsettled probably rain; moderate shifting winds.

Louisiana: Tonight generally fair, not so cold, probably frost; Tuesday partly cloudy; light southerly winds on the coast.

Arkansas: Tonight generally cloudy, warmer; Tuesday partly cloudy.

Oklahoma: Tonight and Tuesday partly cloudy.

East Texas: Tonight partly cloudy, warmer except in extreme northwest portion, probably frost nearly to coast; Tuesday partly cloudy; light westerly winds on the coast.

West Texas: Tonight and Tuesday generally fair.

Map indicates generally fair warmer weather in belt.—Kofler

Map shows fair practically entire belt, no rain except a little over Tennessee mountains. Killing frost to coast in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and nearly to coast in Carolinas and Georgia.

McFadden brokers buying cotton.

Logan & Bryan say: There being no signs of abatement in the foreign demand and the trade inclined to accept the belief in a sharp acreage reduction, values will probably tend toward higher levels. Purchases on sharp reacttions seem advisable.

STOCK GOSSIP

Dow, Jones summary: The International Merchant Marine company, is likely to be put into the hands of a receiver this week. Germans seize two Dutch food cargoes. Holland indifferent, may cease sending supplies to Germany. April interest and dividend payments to total $187,104,466. Minimum stock prices in Canada prohibitive. Russia places largest contract of war with Canadian Car and Foundry company. Supreme court meets at noon. Germany and Austrian subjects advised to leave Italy immediately. Hungary prohibits gold and silver exports. Total exports from port of New York during February $113,203,172 versus $64,934,639 in February, 1914.

J. S. Bache & Co. say: Copper stocks have held their advance very well and increased buying power expected with advancing prices for the metal. Steel industry gradually improving. The outlook favors continued improvement in the industrial stocks.

Wall Street Journal: The belief is expressed in many quarters of the street that the market has entered upon its spring rise.

Public buying is entering the market in force. The more favorable war news stimulating buying power.—Logan & Bryan.

President Schwab reiterates that he has nothing to do with manipulation of Bethlehem Steel stocks and that there will be no dividend or stock bonus for three and possibly four years.

GRAIN GOSSIP

Logan & Bryan say: It appears more clear that the bearish influence of possible Russian wheat supplies for Europe has been overestimated and that Europe's needs for weeks and possibly months to come, must continue to depend on this side for supplies.

Favorable crop news cannot be followed far as the selling feature at this time, and on good depressions look for quick support and good recovery.

Large stocks and poor demand, bearish features in corn but the short interest becomes active whenever there is a display of strength in wheat and oats. Conservative leaders in oats are predicting that the market has had sufficient break for the present.

No feature at opening, but immediately afterwards offerings became light and buying that looked like short covering was inevidence, especially in corn and oats. The grain markets now nervous and traders waiting further developments from abroad, before acting aggressively. The southwest corn markets are lower than the close and this is causing some local selling, although the short covering in both corn and oats is holding these markets firm. There is no doubt a fair sized short interest in corn.—Stuart Logan.

Trade light, but with any increased offerings we look for liquidation in all grains.—Stuart Logan.

KANSAS CITY BUTTER, EGGS AND POULTRY

(By Associated Press.)

KANSAS CITY, March 22.—Butter—Creamery, 27c; firsts, 25c; seconds, 23c; packing, 17c.

Weather Conditions

Forecast till 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Atlanta and vicinity: Fair, warmer tonight; Tuesday increasing cloudiness and warmer.

Georgia: Fair tonight, warmer in northwest portion; Tuesday increasing cloudiness and warmer.

Alabama: Partly cloudy and warmer tonight; Tuesday unsettled, probably rain.

Unusually cold and blustery weather for so late in March prevails over the southern and eastern states under the influence of a storm passing across the northern section while the atmospheric pressure is high over Texas. Snow occurred again over northern Georgia, Tennessee and western North Carolina, as well as in the lower Lake region.

Temperatures at 7 a. m. were below freezing over the northern half of all the Gulf states, with killing frosts reported even to the Gulf coast at Mobile. A belt of warmer weather extends across the middle portion of the northern portion, while in the northwest temperatures as low as 22 degrees are reported.

The weather will be fair tonight and Tuesday and will moderate somewhat as the wind diminishes in velocity tonight.

The Real Estate Field

Another Peachtree Street Lease Announced -- Considerable Activity in the Crass Subdivision on Peachtree Street at Currier--Many to Attend Adair Banquet on Tuesday Night--Unofficial Report of Leases and Exchanges

While little real estate news was given out Monday for publication there were unofficial announcements of important new business.

These included two or three central leases and quite an important exchange, all of which should be ready for announcement during the week. Building was quiet, only small permits being issued.

War news was distinctly more encouraging Monday, and this always has a good effect on sentiment.

PEACHTREE LEASE.

A. S. Adams, of the B. M. Grant agency, leased for the Mitchell estate to Fred Garrow the store room at 107 Peachtree street opposite the Piedmont Hotel. The term of the lease is five years.

ADAIR BANQUET TUESDAY.

A large attendance will be present at the Druid Hills club on Tuesday night when Forrest and George Adair will celebrate their fiftieth anniversary as a real estate agency with a banquet to the real estate fraternity of Atlanta. Agents who have not yet replied to their invitations are requested to do so at once. In the main replies have been received and a large attendance of over 200 people will be on hand.

With hardly more than a half dozen exceptions, the invitations have been sent to real estate men exclusively. A similar banquet ten years ago celebrated the fortieth anniversary of the firm.

PEACHTREE ACTIVITY.

Considerable activity is being shown in what is known as the Crass subdivision at Peachtree and Currier streets.

Announcement was made Sunday of the sale of a building there by Ben J. Massell. Mr. Massell is now making plans for another building in the same subdivision, and Carl Witt has completed excavation for a building on the lot adjoining the corner.

MR. M. L. COX, OF ELLIJAY, DIES FROM PNEUMONIA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

ELLIJAY, Ga., March 22.—Mr. M. L. Cox died at his home here early this morning of pneumonia. He was sheriff of Gilmer county for several terms and was widely known in political circles.

A wife and several children survive him, among whom are R. L. Cox, Jr., deputy collector, of Atanta, and Dr. C. G. Cox, of Ellijay. He was a brother of Judge W. A. Cox, ordinary of Gilmer county. Burial will take place Tuesday morning.

ONE THOUSAND PEOPLE HEAR LABOR SPEAKERS

Class Betterment Must Progress as Individuals Progress, Says Shanessey

An audience estimated at 1,000 people, in which were represented employers as well as employes, attended the mass meeeting of the Atlanta Labor Forward movement at the Alamo No. 2 theater Sunday.

The education and enlightenment of the working man was the keynote of the various speeches, which consumed about two hours, and the audience gave close attention. A large number were turned away for lack of seats.

The first speaker was J. C. Shanessey, general organizer of the Journeymen Barbers' International Union of America.

He emphasized the fact that the betterment of a class can progress no faster than the growth of the intelligence of the individuals composing it.

Jerome Jones, of Atlanta, editor of the Journal of Labor, declared the trouble with organized labor is that it is misunderstood. He quoted the words of Bishop Nelson, "examine the purpose and not the method." There are "rough necks" in the labor unions, he admitted, but they do not represent the rank and file of the labor movement.

T. J. Reagan, organizer of the textile workers, spoke of the strike of Fulton Bag and Cotton mill employes, which was started ten months ago. He urged his audience to buy no flour that is not contained in sacks bearing the union label.

John M. Ryan, general organizer of the United Association of Journeymen Plumbers and Helpers of the United States and Canada, spoke on the conditions of the unions over the country, which he said are normal.

MAY LEASE TWO STREET RESURFACING MACHINES

Finance and Streets Committees Will Consider Proposal Monday

The finance and street committees of council will hold a joint session Monday afternoon to consider the advisability of leasing two street resurfacing machines, which Chairman A. W. Farlinger declares would enable Atlanta to resurface her smooth pavement streets and to put a smooth pavement on belgian blocks at a greatly reduced cost.

Mr. Farlinger and Chairman Renfroe, of the street committee, were enthusiastic over plans they have formulated to resurface a large number of streets this year.

They declare that by using the machines asphalt streets can be resurfaced at a cost of 43 cents a square yard against $1.25 now paid for the same work.

The machine, known as the "klutz" patent, can be leased for $1,800 for an indefinite term.

According to Mr. Farlinger's estimate, by using it the city can place an asphalt pavement over belgian blocks at a cost of 60 cents a square yard.

When the machine is used no part of the old pavement is dug up. It is simply melted, the new material is added, and then the whole street is smoothed.

JITNEY BUS ORDINANCE TO COME UP FRIDAY

A joint meeting of the streets and electric railways committees of council to again take up the consideration of the Lee jitney bus ordinance, has been called for next Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

At the last joint session of the committees action on the ordinance was postponed that data about jitney bus legislation in other cities might be secured.

Aug. 1, 1840: At the Log Cabin gathering in Vermont, Mr. Daniel Webster was introduced to a member of the Boston Tea Party, an old veteran who pushed tea from the gunwhale of the ship.

1840—1915

Seventy five years ago when survivors of the Boston Tea Party still lived, Lemp had its beginning,—the oldest brewery in America with a national patronage.

Each generation of Lemp brewers made the finest beer of its time; but 75 years accumulated experience gave to this generation the genius to create

"The choicest product of the brewers art"

FALSTAFF

—the finest beer of all times; wholly original in character and superfine in flavor.

Beer is a food. Bread and beer are made of the same materials; cereals, yeast and water. Bread is solid; beer is liquid—both are highly nourishing. Physicians prescribe beer to produce energy, build tissue and strengthens nerves. Good beer is the elixir of life.
